SPOON WITH TEETH—One of the spoons county jailers discovered used by two inmates in an escape attempt. (Independent-Journal photo)

ESCAPE ATTEMPT AT JAIL

They Almost Saw Their Way Out

A young robber and a burglar tried to saw their way out of Marin County Jail last night with crude saws fashioned from tablespoons, sheriff's deputies reported today.

But the would-be escapers had a long way to go. They had almost filed through a hasp on a padlock that locks the metal mesh screen in the juvenile cell window. Even if they had filed this hasp, they would have had to file through another hasp to open the mesh screen, and then would have faced the steel bars of the window.

The two suspects are Dennis Arnold Bradshow, 21, who held up the Original Fourth Street Liquor Store in San Rafael last November, and Kenneth Arnold Kluever, 19, who is due for sentencing for burglary next Monday. Both were placed in isolation after the escape attempt was discovered.

Jailer Newall Snyder discovered the escape plot just before midnight last night when he went to check the juvenile cell where five inmates were being held.

Snyder spotted Bradshaw and Kluever standing on a metal table doing something next to the padlock on the east window. They both jumped down. Snyder found Bradshaw with a big tablespoon which had 14 grooves in it.

Deputies searched the cell, and Deputy Carl Mead discovered another spoon in a hole in the ceiling. This spoon had seven grooves in it. The hasp that had been sawed had been filled with soap.

$1.6-Million Dixie Bond Issue Is Urged

Dixie School District trustees last night heard a recommendation from their finance committee that a bond election for 1.6 million dollars be held April 16 with the regular trustee election.

The recommendation was made by Kenneth Downs of Terra Linda, chairman of the 20-member citizen committee. Downs said the bonds would be necessary for school construction, based on a "simple projection of what has been happening to the growth of the district in the past three years."

By 1968, Downs said the committee expects the assessed valuation of the district to reach 35-million dollars. Assessed valuation of the district in 1961-62 was $15,255,530.

Downs said the predicted figure does not take into consideration the potential development of "several large projects such as Northgate Shopping Center and the Northgate Industrial Park."

He said the committee was unanimous in its recommendation and belief that the bonds requested were a modest estimate.

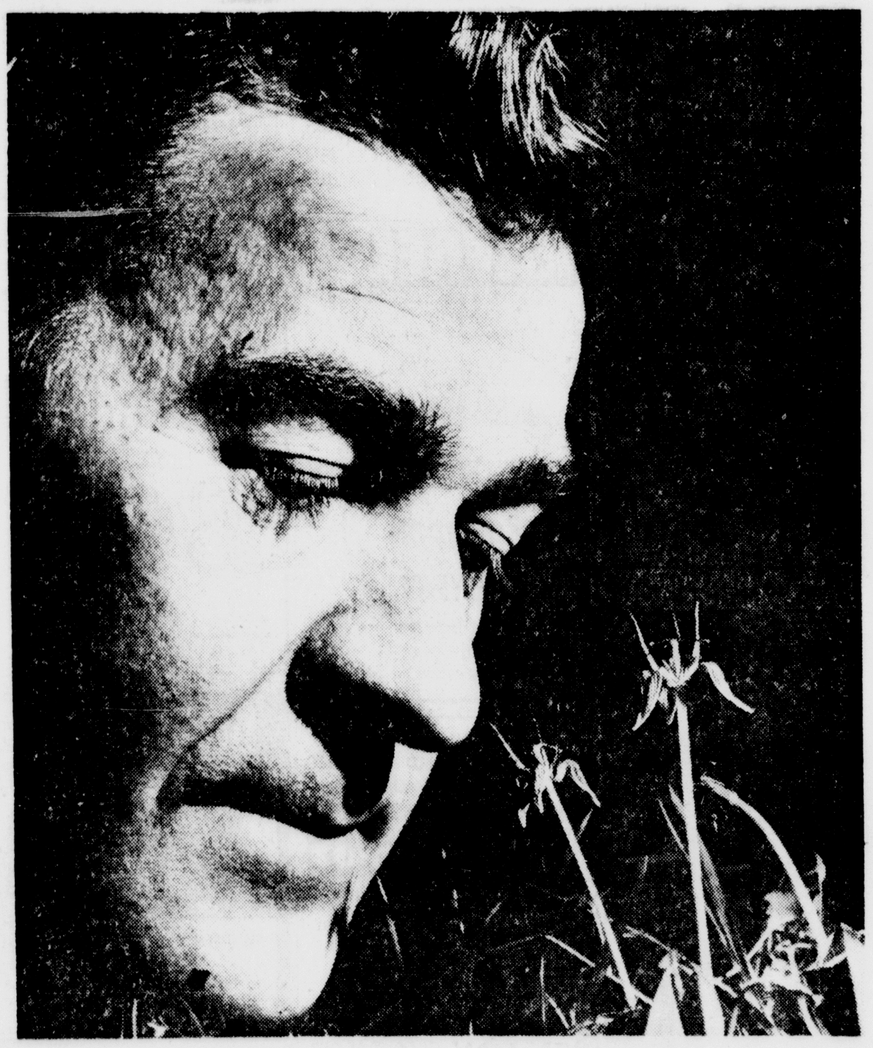
Supt. Dennie B. Willis said his staff would study the suggested bond needs and would report to the board for possible action Jan. 23.

The district had $747,000 in bonded indebtedness as of last June. The district tax rate is $2.82 per 100 dollars of assessed valuation.

The board also:

1. Appointed Donald Thieler, principal of the Mary E. Silveira School, as director of the district's summer school to begin July 1.

2. Voted unanimously to withdraw from the participation in the school library service of the Marin County Library.



SPRING HARBINGER ALREADY

The first sign of spring has already popped out at Samuel P. Taylor State Park as tops y turv ,y weather continues in Marin County. It is supposed to be the dead of winter but the Fetid Adder's Tongue (Scoliopus Bigelovii Torr) does not know it. The delicate flower, which has a rather indelicate smell, is being positively identified here by Park Supervisor Neil Power. The plants normally are the first flowers to bloom after the rainy season, Power said.

Start On Redistricting Studied By Supervisors

Map Of Area, More Hearings Are Ordered

Possible increases in both population and area of West Marin's Supervisorial District No. 4 formed the center of discussion today as four county supervisors in a special session made a strong start toward Marin's first redistricting in the past 78 years.

With Supervisor William D. Fusselman absent because of a severe cold, the other four found themselves in substantial agreement on what must be done. How to do it will provide meat for further special meetings promised by Chairman Walter R. Castro.

The one definite action taken today, as the meeting concluded, was to pass a resolution proposed by Supervisor Peter Bahr for getting up a map as basis for study of present make-up of the five districts as compared with the changes suggested by the supervisorial redistricting advisory committee.

By terms of the resolution, the county planning staff is to depict the present and the proposed districts.

Castro seemed to sum up the mood of the board when he said, "We've got to come to a decision on this ourselves, not wait for the state to do the job for us."

By the plan of the advisory committee, George Ludy's fourth district would be enlarged so that Ludy would represent 6 per cent of the whole county population rather than 1.7 per cent as now. On this general proposition all seemed agreed.

Dealing with special areas, the board agreed that Nicasio should be removed from the fifth district and put in the fourth.

COMMUTER

But concerning San Geronimo Valley Castro thought Fusselman's second district should include it as primarily a commuter area.

Behr said he felt that Bolinas might logically go into Ludy's big West Marin domain.

But Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach said that without attempting to talk for Bolinas, he wanted to say that in his view Stinson Beach had more community of interest with Mill Valley and South Marin generally than with such west coast points as Inverness, Point Reyes Station and Marshall.

PIE-SHAPED PLAN

Dougherty also suggested pie-shaped districts with center near the population center, the five districts extending from it.

"That would tend to make us all a group of supervisors at large, each representing virtually all aspects of the whole county," Behr said.

"It's going to be hard to cut the pie," observed Castro.

Ludy said that such procedure might "make a lot of chaos," and Behr declared it would run pointblank into the law, which requires that consideraiton be given to both population and community of interest.

Castro said he will call the next special meeting as soon as the planning staff provides the requested redistricting map.

Car Radio Stolen

Dick Ferber reported to Mill Valley police yesterday afternoon that a radio had been taken from his 1951 Ford sometime during the night while the car was parked near his home at 260 Monte Vista Avenue.

AID IN JEOPARDY

Aged Patients Given Respite

One hundred and nine Marin County recipients of financial help from the new Medical Assistance for the aged program have been given a brief respite from expulsion from nursing homes through Tuesday's action of county supervisors, County Welfare Director Betty L. Presley said today.

Supervisors learned Tuesday that most local nursing homes would not care for patients under the new reduced state rate of $218 per month. Rates for most are $350 or more.

Under authorization of the supervisors, the County Welfare Department is now purposely going slow on technical classification of patients presently in nursing homes. The effect of this is to prolong the customary payments required by the homes until May 1.

From that time on, nobody at this moment can be sure of anything save that Marin County nursing homes won't keep patients at the $219 rate decreed as the permanent level by the State Department of Finance.

Miss Presley pointed out rather bitterly today that this rate compares with one of $258 charged by the State Department of Mental Hygiene to patients or their relatives for treatment in State Institutions.

Through the supervisors' action, Marin County nursing homes can continue until May 1 to enjoy the "freeze" on rates which the state allowed last October.

One home in this county is charging $395, said Miss Presley. Most are getting $350 and they say they can't do their job for less. A state survey is known to have covered, in Marin County, only the three smallest and lowest-cost homes which charge from $200 to $298 but provide only 23 beds out of the total of 298 in the county.

Five new patients are being certified today as eligible for help under the program, said Miss Presley. They can draw only the new rate of $219 and two of the five homes in which they now are staying at their own expense have advised that they can't remain at the $219 rate.

These people are currently finding the money to pay for an initial 30 days in the home at their own expense. It is required that they do this before they can be certified for aid under the Medical Assistance for the Aged program.

Not only are their prospects for continued nursing home care in jeopardy, said Miss Presley, but others may be seeking to qualify but are being refused admission to any homes. The homes have made clear that they don't purpose to take patients who expect eventually to come under MAA with its present $219 rate.

FATE PLAYS STRANGE TRICK ON FATHER WHO NABBED BURGLAR

PACOIMA (UPI)—Estell Blunt chased and captured a burglar who broke into his home early today, police reported.

Officers booked a soldier, identified as Sp/4 John Hays, 21, Van Nuys, on suspicion of burglary. Police said Blunt wounded Hays as he chased him from his house.

An hour later, Edward Blunt, 35, also of Pacoima, son of the elder Blunt, was apprehended by patrolmen. Officers said he was booked on suspicion of burglary at a liquor store.

Multi-Million-Dollar Development Revealed

Plans for a multi-million dollar development on 470 acres at the southeast section of Novato with an 18-hole golf course, a 300-boat marina, an industrial park and apartment houses were announced today by Richard Hanna of the Hanna Land Co. of San Francisco.

The property, east of Highway 101 and north of Highway 37 is adjacent to Novato Creek, which would give boating access to the Marina. Of the total, 120 acres are now in the city. The balance would be annexed before the development began, Hanna said.

The Hanna firm has owned the property for about five years. The plans announced today were the third revision of the proposed use of the land, and Hanna emphasized that nothing would be final until the project gets approval of the city planning commission and council.

The city council had already approved part of the property for industrial park development. Included in this was 25 acres that the firm had offered as a city park. The Novato Park and Recreation Commission is still studying the offer.

Hanna said the offer to lease the 25 acres to the city for 99 years at one dollar a year still stands in his new proposal.

The new plans were drawn up by Wayne R. Williams of the architect and engineering firm of Smith and Williams of Pasadena. The plans are expected to be submitted to the city in about 90 days.

The proposed industrial park will have between 50 and 60 sites for small industries in the north end of the area. South of the industrial park will be a trailer park and an 18-hole golf course.

The plans also call for a medical center or "health park." It would center around a hospital, doctors offices, laboratories and clinics.

A communications center is also planned. This could accommodate any type of communication, including radio and television stations, newspaper, magazine and publishing offices.

An automotive center is also in the plans. This would be a showroom where the public could shop and compare cars, Hanna stated.

Other things planned in the area include apartment houses, neighborhood shopping centers, a school site, recreational areas and a "boatel." Hanna estimated it will cost $10,000 an acre for site development.

Powers Named To Fair Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today appointed former Republican Lt. Gov. Harold J. (Butch) Powers to the State Fair Board.

Powers, 62, will take over the unexpired term of Max Sobel of San Francisco, who resigned.

Powers, a state senator from 1936 to 1956, withdrew from the 1962 race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Stock Figure Freed In Tax Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Truman Bidwell, former board chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, was acquitted yesterday on income tax evasion charges.

A federal court jury brought in its verdict after three and one-half hours' deliberation.

A first trial ended in a hung jury Oct. 2. The second trial began Dec. 6 before Judge Thomas F. Croake.

The government tried to prove that Bidwell and his wife filed returns for 1956 and 1957 with intent to evade about $55,000 in taxes.

2nd Fire In Empire State Building

NEW YORK (AP)—The second smoldering fire in as many days brought firemen to the Empire State Building today. They ripped out a section of wall in a public hallway on the 31st floor to uncover and extinguish a fire in insulation.

An attendant on the floor had found the wall hot. No one was evacuated.

A series of fires yesterday in the 102-story building burned out several offices and delayed thousands who work in the building. A carelessly thrown cigarette has tentatively been blamed for the fire.

Blaze At Palace

LONDON (AP)—Fire broke out at Kensington Palace, the home of Princess Margaret, today and brought part of the roof crashing down near an apartment being prepared for her.

The princess watched firemen train hoses at the top of the palace as smoke gushed from upper story windows.

The blaze started in the palace rafters near the 20-room apartment being prepared for the princess and her husband, Antony Armstrong - Jones. When it broke out, Margaret was in her present quarters at the other end of the palace.

Arctic Air, Snow

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strong northerly winds fanned arctic air and snow from Montana into norther sections of the Midwest today, ending a brief period of spring-like weather.

The huge mass of cold air extended from Montana through the Central Plains into the northern Ohio Valley and headed southward. Temperatures dropped sharply as the icy air moved in from Canada and were below zero in Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

The will, filed yesterday, left the remaining shares to Powell's children by his second wife, actress Joan Blondell. They are Norman Scott Powell, 25, of West Los Angeles, and Ellen Powell Hayward, 23, of North Hollywood.

Powell died of cancer Jan. 2.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela has accepted President John F. Kennedy's invitation to visit Washington Feb. 19-20, the White House announced yesterday.

Students Taunt Meredith Again

OXFORD, Miss (UPI)—Negro student James H. Meredith again found himself taunted last night at the University of Mississippi cafeteria.

About 200 students beat on their trays and glasses with silverware when Meredith entered the cafeteria accompanied by his ever-present escort of federal marshals. The 29-year-old Air Force veteran smiled at the noisy greeting and sat down, touching off a walkout by students at surrounding tables.

It was the third straight night of demonstrations at the cafeteria. Many students jeered and left the cafeteria when Meredith entered Monday and Tuesday nights.

Campus sources said the students are protesting what they regard as a publicity stunt by Meredith—his statement Monday that he would not register for the next semester unless "definite and positive changes" are made at the University. They said students felt that campus tension had eased and Meredith's presence at Ole Miss was no longer of national interest until his statement rekindled the issue.

Rep. Tom Abernethy (D-Miss.) in Washington, yesterday accused Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy of collaborating with Meredith on the statement. He said:

"Things were becoming too quiet down there and evidently the attorney general felt . . . it was necessary he and (Meredith) do something to get the whole prostrate university back in the limelight."

TSHOMBE ASKS HIS TROOPS TO QUIT

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Moise Tshombe bowed to the United Nations today after a brief period of house arrest.

The mercurial president of Katanga Province moved out into the Katanga countryside at the end of a column of U.N. troops, appealing to his troops to give up their fight.

Tshombe's house arrest in Elisabethville was ordered last night by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant after the Katangan leader renewed his threat to blow up the big industrial installations and hydroelectric dam at Kolwezi.

A U.N. spokesman said Tshombe was released from house arrest early today and immediately set out with a U.N. column for the towns of Kasembulesa and Sakania, southeast of Elisabethville on the border of Northern Rhodesia.

There was no immediate explanation why Tshombe and the column did not move northwest toward Kolwezi, the scene of the greatest threat from Tshombe's holdout forces.

The U.N. spokesman said the column had encountered no resistance after advancing 40 miles.

The U.N. spokesman said the operation was going according to plan.

Katangan sources said Tshombe tried to leave his presidential palace Wednesday night. U.N. Tunisian troops stopped him, enforcing the house arrest order.

It was understood Tshombe then contacted the British consul in Elisabethville and through him offered U.N. troops freedom of movement to Sakania. U.N. authorities then agreed Tshombe could go free.

Katangan sources said Tshombe declined a United Nations escort in leading the U.N. advance, and a U.N. spokesman confirmed that he was out in front of the U.N. column unescorted.

Katangan sources said a wide span bridge over the Lualaba River, 25 miles from Kolwezi, had been blown up and destroyed. The sources said it may have been blown up by accident.

Only five states sent delegates to the first gathering of the Constitutional Convention held in Annapolis, Md., in 1786.

Witnesses Called For FM Stations' Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee called witnesses for a closed hearing today on three listener-supported radio stations that present varying shades of opinion on public affairs.

The programs of the stations, owned and operated by the Pacific Foundation, include broadcasts ranging from the views of John Birch Society members on the right to Communist Party leaders on the left.

Two of the stations are in California, KPFK in Los Angeles and KPFA in Berkeley. The third is WBAI in New York.

Trevor Thomas, Pacifica's acting president and among the witnesses subpoenaed by the subcommittee, urged that the hearing be opened to the public.

"What kinds of questions can this committee possibly ask about an operation as open and public as ours that require secret proceedings?" he asked in a statement earlier this week.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.), the subcommittee's vice chairman, said its rules require that all witnesses first be heard in closed session.

This, Dodd said, is intended as a safeguard against spreading any testimony on the public record that would be unfairly derogatory or a breach of security.

The subcommittee, in line with its long-established policy of making no announcement about its closed hearings, refused even to confirm that officials of the Pacifica Foundation and others associated with its radio operations has been subpoenaed.

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) issued a statement yesterday saying he had requested the subcommittee to explain the purpose of its inquiry and to give assurance that the subpoenaed witnesses would have an opportunity to testify.

In addition to Thomas, they include Dr. Peter H. Odegard, a political science professor at the University of California and a director of the Pacifica Foundation; Harry Plotkin of Washington, D.C., the radio chain's attorney, and Joseph Bimms, manager of Pacifica's New York station.

Also under subpoena is Mrs. Dorothy Healey, Southern California chairman of the Communist Party who conducts a 15-minute, semi-monthly commentary on Pacifica's Los Angeles station.

RULES COMMITTEE VOTE VICTORY FOR KENNEDY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration has won the first battle of the new Congress—the showdown over the House Rules Committee. But not even the victors claimed it was a major breakthrough for the president's program.

Only the tougher fights to come will show whether it was a real or hollow victory.

The tough fights were shaping up even as the Congress members were welcoming each other back to the Capitol, meeting new members and generally going about the task of getting back into business.

Republicans fired opening salvos at the President's estimated 99-billion-dollar budget, saying that his proposed tax cuts plus bigger spending would bring a whopping deficit.

Some of the GOP's young Turks let it be known they intend to offer alternatives to Kennedy's programs rather than just condemn them.

The first day's drama centered on the House vote of 235 to 196 to retain 15 members on the Rules Committee instead of having the total drop back down to 12 as it was before the last session.

Presumably the enlarged membership would give liberal supporters of the Kennedy program an 8-7 edge and keep the committee from falling back under conservative control.

Obviously the result pleased the president. He had contended that unless the committee was enlarged his program would be emasculated.

His aides were saving their cheers for later. One top administration leader, asked if the rules outcome meant the House would now give the Kennedy program its blessing, said bluntly: "Hell, no!"

The same rules fight was won two years ago by a narrow 217 to 212 margin under the prodding of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

By passing it this time by a much safer margin, the House gave Speaker John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) his biggest victory since he replaced Rayburn a year ago.

Voting for the increase were 207 Democrats and 28 Republicans. Forty-eight Democrats joined 148 Republicans in voting against it.

Major changes in support of the increase were a net pickup of eight in the Georgia delegation and a big gain in the California delegation swollen through redistricting.

For the president, however, this represented only the first of many hurdles inattempting to get Congress to approve tax cuts and revisions, federal aid to education, health care for the elderly financed through Social Security, and other proposals.

These measures all will be subject to extensive hearings and uncertain action by originating committees before they even reach the rules group.

More High-Level U.S.-Russ Talks Seen Narrowing Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials expressed hope today that periodic high level talks with Soviet representatives, such as the ones now under way here, will lead eventually to a breakthrough in improving East-West relations.

Major Kennedy administration hopes at the moment still center on the possibility of getting an American-British agreement with the Soviet Union for a nuclear weapons test ban. This is due in part to the belief that the widening split between the Soviet Union and Red China may influence Soviet nuclear test policy.

President John F. Kennedy spent an hour at the White House late yesterday with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, who is scheduled to return to Moscow in a few days.

Kuznetsov was to meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today and then lunch with Rusk and other foreign policy officials at the State Department.

Kuznetsov will have lunch tomorrow with William C. Foster, director of the U. S. disarmament agency.

On leaving the White House Kuznetsov said only that he came from New York to Washington at the president's invitation and that Kennedy and he had discussed "some problems of mutual interest."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the two men and their aides met "in a very cordial atmosphere" and reviewed the recent negotiations on the Cuban crisis which had been conducted in New York.

U. S. officials said specific subjects touched on by Kennedy or Kuznetsov included disarmament and Berlin. It was reported that Kuznetsov brought up the Berlin question, but for what purpose was not disclosed.

Kuznetsov was invited to see the president and Rusk, it is understood, primarily because U. S. leaders appreciated the diplomatic manner in which he had handled the Cuban negotiations.

The deeper purpose of the discussions here is to try to find some basis for clearing up outstanding problems troubling East-West relations.

So far as Cuba is concerned Kennedy is known to be determined to do all he can to get the Soviet Union to withdraw an estimated 17,000 military personnel.

On the Soviet side there is known to be disappointment at Kennedy's refusal to give the United Nations a formal no-invasion pledge.

Plot To Free Felon With Forged Papers Foiled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alcatraz Warden Olin Blackwell, who uncovered a plot to free a notorious bank robber with forged documents, said last night it's possible a convict could be freed by such papers "but it's highly unlikely."

"We double check all such orders. It was last week when we got this court order setting aside a term for Roy Drake. The reference numbers to his commitment papers didn't jibe.

"So, I sent the papers back, suggesting maybe there was an error, perhaps a typographical error. But even beyond that we would have double checked had everything appeared OK."

In Washington, the Justice Department said it is conducting an investigation of the plot but declined to comment on its scope.

The Indianapolis Star said the forgery of papers to set aside one of two 15-year sentences imposed on Roy Rudolph Drake, 38, of Indianapolis, in 1956, was discovered Monday as the result of Blackwell's action.

The court order setting aside the 15-year term bore the rubber-stamped signature of federal judge Cale J. Holder of Indianapolis.

Also termed forgeries were a cover letter to Drake explaining the order, a similar letter to Blackwell and a memodandum entry, all bearing the forged signatures of court clerk Robert G. Newbold. Newbold said a preliminary investigation had cleared members of his staff.

Had the order gone through, Drake would not have been freed but would have been made eligible for immediate parole.

"With the forgers we have nowadays," Blackwell said, "it's conceivable papers like these could be made good enough to stand up. But we check so carefully I doubt it would work.

"I don't know Drake's role in this. I do know whoever handled the paper work knew an awful lot about Drake and about his case. Everything got here almost letter perfect — through the regular mail."

Drake led a wild career of crime before he was captured in New Orleans following a pair of Indianapolis bank holdups that netted $82,500. Prior to that he broke out of California's San Quentin prison twice and once escaped a Missouri prison.

In 1943, he took part in a $100,000 holdup of the Beverly Hills Hotel.

ACID TRIAL JURY MAY BE SELECTED

SAN JOSE (AP) — There was mild optimism that a jury finally would be selected today to try Dr. Geza deKaplany on the charge that he tortured his beautiful young bride to death.

This was the fourth day of trial and over 40 jurors had either been challenged or excused.

The former Hungarian freedom fighter, now 36, has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. His wife, Hajna, 25, also a Hungarian refugee, died Sept. 30, a month after the incident.

Police reported deKaplany, a medical doctor, meticulously poured acid over the nude body of his bride of five weeks. She had been bound hand and foot and the hi-fi was turned up to cover her screams, police said.

The alleged motive was a report deKaplany had received that his wife was unfaithful. She denied this until the day she died.

Her mother, Mrs. Ilona Piller, maintained a vigil by her daughter's bed. The prosecution intended to call Mrs. Piller as a witness, but Asst. Dist. Atty. John Schatz read a letter to the court yesterday that seemed to rule out this possibility. It came from Dr. Robert McDonald Miller.

"I feel that the strain of appearing at the forthcoming trial would be medically hazardous and might result in serious permanent disability," the letter said.

Throughout the trial, deKaplany has sat impassively by the side of his attorney, E. F. DeVilbiss. The first faint smile appeared on the accused's face yesterday during a whispered conversation with the lawyer.

Most of the time, however, deKaplany has stared at the jury box or at the table in front of him.

Slayer's Violent Life Ends Quietly

VACAVILLE (AP) — James Jack Cathey, 31, is dead, but the state law he inspired remains.

In contrast to his violent life, Cathey died quietly and unnoticed yesterday in his maximum security cell at the California Medical Facility for convicts, Superintendent Dr. William C. Keating Jr. said death was of natural causes.

Cathey, originally from Los Angeles, killed two men and was accused of slaying a third.

His first victim was a fellow inmate in an Arizona prison. Cathey was judged insane and transferred to Atascadero California State Hospital from where he was released nine years later in 1959.

Two months afterward, he killed Jose Lara during the robbery of a Los Angeles bar. Again declared insane, he returned to Atascadero.

In March 1960, the hospital found Cathey able to stand trial for the Lara killing. While the trial was pending, Cathey got in a violent brawl with five attendants during which John Carl Tiesen was killed and the four others wounded with a sharpened table knife. Cathey was shipped to Vacaville, ruled too dangerous for Atascadero.

In December, he carefully prepared a handwritten petition for a writ of habeas corpus saying it was illegal to hold a mental patient in prison. The Third District Court of Appeals agreed and ordered his return to Atascadero, a decision appealed by the state.

During the appeal, the California Legislature rapidly passed a bill permitting violent mental patients to be confined in a state penal institution.

Where Buster has been for the past 10 months might be an interesting story, but the 6-year-old Boston bull terrier, who was returned to owner Marie Woelfl yesterday, wasn't talking. Miss Woelfl, of 19 Glen Avenue, San Rafael, examines the expired 1962 license which Buster still wore when he appeared Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel T. Freitas of 160 Sea View Avenue, San Rafael. Buster, healthy and happy, had been gone since last March 5.

School Trusteeship Up For Vote

Forty-nine trusteeships in the 25 school districts in Marin County will be up for election in April.

Also to be filled are four positions on the county board of education, members of which are elected by areas.

All districts except San Rafael High and Elementary School districts will elect April 16, with the county board members being elected at the same time. Members of the San Rafael Board of Education, which governs the city's two school districts, will be elected in the city election on April 8.

Two trustees, in West Marin and Bolinas-Stinson districts, will be elected for two-year terms to fill out unexpired terms of members who resigned. In Marin Junior College District, one of the four trustees to be elected will fill a two-year term and the other three will get four-year terms, because the regular rotation of terms was upset by change from three-year to four-year terms a few years ago. However, it has not yet been determined whether who fills what terms will be decided before or after the election, said Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant county superintendent.

Petitions of candidacy, except for the San Rafael Board of Education, may be filed at any time with the county superintendent's office, said Kupfer. Deadline for filing is March 1.

Filing for the San Rafael city election will not open until Feb. 22 and will not close until March 8. City Clerk W. L. Morgan said he will give out forms for petitions of candidacy any time after Feb. 1.

The four county board members whose terms expire are Mrs. Adele J. Alpers (San Rafael area), Mrs. Alce Ann Cole (Kentfield area), Walter L. Johnson (Novato area), and Dr. Frederick J. Saam (West Marin area).

Other trustees whose terms expire, as listed by Kupfer, are:

OBITUARIES

Joseph Gomez Rites Set

A Requiem Mass will be celebrated tomorrow for Joseph D. Gomez, San Francisco diamond setter and former Mill Valley and Ross resident, who died Tuesday at a San Francisco hospital following a short illness.

It was due to his illness that trial of his son in San Francisco Superior Court was postponed Tuesday morning for two weeks. The son, J. Robert Gomez of Mill Valley, is accused of engineering over $100,000 in jewelry robberies.

Gomez, 61, was owner of Gomez and Son Jewelers in San Francisco, having been in business there for the past 40 years.

Born in Malaga, Spain, Gomez started his career at the age of 16 in Philadelphia where he made hand-made jewelry from platinum. He moved to Mill Valley from Philadelphia and went into business in Homestead Valley with a jeweler named Thieriot.

Gomez, according to his brother, Manuel Gomez, of Mill Valley, taught his brothers and his son, J. Robert Gomez, the business of diamond setting. He also taught many others who apprenticed under him.

Gomez moved from Ross to San Francisco where he resided 10 years.

He is survived by his wife, Perla S. Gomez of Atherton; three sons, J. Robert Gomez, Richard O. Gomez of Burlingame and Paul A. Gomez of Merced; two daughters, Mrs. Fernando Gomez of Atherton and Mrs. Marigene Peri of San Anselmo; three brothers, Ralph D. Gomez of San Francisco, Manuel D. Gomez of Mill Valley and Anthony D. Gomez of Seattle and a sister, Mrs. J. M. Mendez of Mill Valley.

Also surviving him are 25 grandchildren.

The Mass will be at 9:30 a.m. at St. Anselm's Catholic Church in San Anselmo. Interment will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael under direction of Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

GEORGE NIELSON

Capt. George T. Nielson of Kentfield, a veteran merchant mariner who sailed in three wars and traveled all over the world, died yesterday at his home after a long illness.

Captain Nielson, 78, lived at 20 Hillside Avenue, and had been a Marin resident for 13 years. He retired five years ago, having last sailed for the Pacific Far East Line.

Born in Germany, Captain Nielson spent most of his life at sea. He arrived at San Francisco and Oakland on a sailing ship in 1906. His sea career spanned 52 years, 38 of which he sailed as a captain.

In 1948 Captain Nielson served as mate of a ship that brought Frank Buck's last cargo of wild animals to the United States.

During World War II, a bomb hit a navy boat on which Captain Nielson was going ashore at Guadalcanal. He was thrown by the blast and suffered a broken back. He was hospitalized many months.

Captain Nielson belonged to Paul Revere Lodge No. 642, F. & A. M., Scottish Rite Bodies of Mobile, Ala., and Masters, Mates and Pilots Assn. of San Francisco.

Survivors are his wife Elsie M. Nielson of Kentfield, a son George E. Nielson of Napa, a daughter Mrs. Jean F. Vaine of Concord and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge to which Captain Nielson belonged. Private inurnment will follow.

ANTONE FREITAS

Antone Freitas, 93, of 49 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, a retired farmer, died yesterday in a local convalescent home after a long illness.

Born in the Azore Islands, Freitas came to this country at the age of 18. He owned a farm in the San Joaquin Valley for about 40 years and had lived in Marin County the past 30 years. There are no survivors.

Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church, followed by burial at Mount Olivet Cemetery. The funeral cortege will assemble at Keaton's at 9:15 a.m.

DUNHAM PATTON

Funeral services were held today in Mill Valley for Dunham Dorsey Patton, retired Sausalito brewer, who died yesterday at a local hospital following a long illness. He was 72.

The funeral was at Russell and Gooch Mortuary. Interment was to be private.

Patton, born in Chicago, had lived in Sausalito 35 years, residing at 536 Sausalito Boulevard. He was last employed by Hamm's Brewing Co. in San Francisco.

Patton is survived by his wife, Anne Patton, and two grandchildren.

Kiddie Car Is Struck; Boy Critically Hurt

A five-year-old Tiburon boy was in critical condition with a head injury at Marin General Hospital today after his coasting kiddie car was struck by a car on Mar West at 12:35 p.m. yesterday.

He is Michael Piercy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piercy of 1897 Mar West. Both parents were away at the time of the tragedy. The boy was under the care of a 17-year-old sister.

Neighbors told California Highway Patrol officers that the boy had been coasting repeatedly down Las Lomas, a 10 per cent grade, onto Mar West.

C. O. Mann, an employee at the nearby Northwestern Pacific Railroad terminal said he had just returned from lunch when he noticed the boy coasting. He was about to put his coat on again and go outside to warn the boy when he heard the screech of brakes.

The boy was struck by a car driven by Phaterrell Green, 23, of Building C-50 of Marin City, an unemployed laborer. He told CHP officers that he was not aware of the small kiddie car until he struck it. He was westbound on Mar Vista. Green was not cited.

Boys Found With Traffic Signs In Car

Two youths, who had just attended an Explorer Scout meeting, were discovered today at 12:52 a.m. near the San Rafael pistol range by police with a load of traffic signs and equipment in their car.

One youth, age 15, was booked at juvenile hall for violation of the curfew. The other, William Leslie Stokely, 18, of 1137 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, was booked at the Marin County Jail for causing a minor to become the ward of the court.

The youths were discovered by San Rafael Police Officer Gerald Green who asked for their identification after they started to pull away when his patrol car approached their parked car.

Green found a street barricade, a "No Parking" sign, a "Rough Road" sign, an automatic blinker and battery and three red reflectors in the back and trunk of their car.

Green said the youths admitted taking the equipment and signs last night from the pistol range and a construction site at Fourth and C streets in San Rafael. Some of the equipment was taken around Thanksgiving from Highway 37, they admitted.

Green noted in his report that the youths were "polite and cooperative at all times" while being questioned.

2 Run-Away Boys Caught In Oregon

Two 15-year-old boys from Terra Linda, reported missing from their homes yesterday, were caught in Bandon, Ore., last night in a car stolen from Terra Linda.

Police at Bandon notified the Marin sheriff at 11:45 last night that the boys were in custody, and a 1953 car had been recovered. The vehicle appears to be the one reported stolen from the home of Frank Papp, 659 Wakerobin Lane in Terra Linda.

Inspector Harvey Teague of the sheriff's juvenile division said one of the boys recently moved to Marin from Chehalis, Wash., and the runaways may have been headed for Washington.

Sewer Discussed

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors at an adjourned meeting last night discussed layout and design of the sewer system to serve Hawthorne Terrace but took no action. The board also instructed its attorney and engineer to review revised ordinances in detail.

Stock Fraud Defense Speaks Out

Two men, accused of a $57,500 securities sale swindle, went to bat in their own defense today in Marin Superior Court before a jury of eight women and four men.

Harley Jackson McQuain, 45, of San Leandro, who headed the Electroform Manufacturing Research Co. of Oakland, denied he had knowingly sold securities in violation of state law.

McQuain's attorney, Lewis L. Vohland of Oakland, said McQuain acknowledges receiving the money from various Marin investors. The money was all spent in the business, which failed because of failure to get government contracts, the lawyer explained.

McQuain's partner in the now-defunct business was also scheduled to testify this afternoon. He is Chester Lee Domer, 64, of 51 Laura Lane, Fairfax. Domer is represented by San Francisco attorney James E. Burns.

After today's session, the trial is expected to resume next Tuesday.

Driver 'Fair' After Smashup

John William Ross, 58, of 450 Belvedere Avenue, Belvedere, was reported in "fair" condition at Marin General Hospital today after apparently losing control of his car yesterday, going over a bank and crashing into a tree at 271 Beach Road, Belvedere.

Ross, who works in advertising promotion, was treated for scalp cuts and multiple scratches and bruises.

Police Chief William S. Woodington, who found Ross unconscious in his car, said the car had rubbed a concrete retaining wall on the cove side of the road for about 100 feet. It then made a left turn at 270 Beach, went over a five foot drop-off and hurtled 15 feet down a steep bank to hit the tree in front of the home of Dr. Robert S. Sitkin.

Missing Wife Returns Home

A San Rafael housewife, missing from her home for one week, returned home safely last midnight, San Rafael police Sgt. Earl Christensen reported this noon.

Mrs. Gordia (Patsy) E. Patterson, 50, wife of Hoke Patterson of 625 Mission Avenue, told officers she had been to Las Vegas.

This morning, police received an anonymous telephone call, reporting that a Mrs. Patterson had returned.

Officers went to her home and confirmed that she had returned safely.

Elected Or Appointed Police Chief Problem Debated

The "inherent right" of the voters to elect their police chief in San Rafael versus the merits of an appointive chief, which would take the office out of the "popularity contest" catagory, was debated today by four radio panalists.

Appearing in favor of an appointive chief on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" were Wallace S. Myers, city attorney of Fairfax, and Carlton Williams, former Independent-Journal reporter now on the news staff of KRON-TV.

Opposing the amendment to San Rafael's city charter which will be on the Jan. 22 ballot were Mrs. Raymond Merz, housewife, and contractor Joseph R. Filippo.

Williams, who wrote a series of articles for the I-J on the subject, said an elective police chief is "ridiculous." Albany, Santa Clara and San Rafael are the only cities in the state electing their police chiefs, he added.

He said the best man for the job, which requires highly technical skills, could best be determined through a competitive examination and appointment by the city council rather than letting it continue as a "popularity contest."

Williams was backed by Myers who said that he believed every city should have one head—the city council—and not "two or three" heads each running their departments independently.

Myers said that it took only a "pleasant personality and enough money" to run for office. He added that the council, and not the voters, was in best position to decide who had the best qualifications for the position.

Myers commented on the office of city attorney, also proposed to be taken out of its elective status on the Jan. 22 ballot, stating that the knowledge of municipal law was a specialized field and the best candidate could be determined by the council.

Filippo said, "It is our inherent right to elect the candidate of our choice." In favoring an elective chief, Filippo added that he would reflect the people's choice, and not "the choice of a chosen few."

He termed Simpson's report "one man's opinion" and said the American way of life was to put trust in the opinion of the majority of people.

Mrs. Merz echoed Filippo's remarks saying "it is our right to vote for the candidate of our choice." She said it was the responsibility of each voter to inform themselves and vote for the best man.

She said it was "unfortunate" the council put the proposal on the January ballot as the voters would have had more time to inform themselves if the proposal was put on the April ballot.

Mrs. Merz claimed that not enough advance notice had been given for January election and that the measure was put on the earlier ballot because of "political maneuvering."

The program will be repeated, via tape recording, Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

GOP Tries To Claim $100 Offered By Grader Forces

Republicans today tried ' claim a $100 reward offered the Democrats; D e m o c r a warned of an impending in sion of "political shock troop for the Republicans, and F publican candidate Donald Clausen announced two "cou y-wide public rallies" in the cky First Congressional Dis ct special election race.

The $100 reward was offer d by the Democrats today in advertisement in the Santa osa Press Democrat to any ne who could arrange a joint ppearance between candidates lausen and William F. Grader, he Democratic candidate. The d was answered in a telegram rom Robert Hill of Eureka, hairman of the Republican irst District committee, point ng out he had helped arrange joint television appearance n Eureka on Jan. 16.

The warning of the invasion by the "Hessians" in a "politi al blitzkreig" came from Roger Kent, chairman of the Grader forces. He said the Republican state chairman, Caspar W. Weinberger, had bragged that this "great army of workers" would pour into the First District in an effort to elect Clausen.

Announcement of the Clausen public rallies was made by David Winslow, Marin Clausen chairman. One is next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Nave Lanes near Hamilton Air Force Base, and the other at 8 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 20, two days before the election, in Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Winslow made no mention of a possible appearance by Clausen at the Civic Center as a result of the Marin supervisors' invitation to appear because Grader made a speech there this week.

Meanwhile, Jacques Nadler, president of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club, said today that his invitation to Clausen to speak before Homestead Valley residents is still open and the claim made Monday by Walter J. Brown, assistant campaign manager for Clausen in San Rafael, that the candidate was not free to accept the invitation was not true.

A REVOLUTIONARY ACHIEVEMENT

the magnificent Magnavox

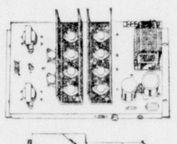
new ASTRO-SONIC
Stereo High Fidelity

this space-age technology surpasses all previous advances in high fidelity... produces ten times more music power than the average tube sets

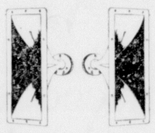
ASTRO-SONIC 100, model 1-ST680
18th Century English—FM/AM, Stereo Radio Phonograph.

The Astro-Sonic has such great tonal dimension it can fill a concert hall like a great symphony orchestra — and in your home can "whisper" the full beauty of music or shake the walls with the crescendo of a great symphony orchestra — yet all this without a single tube!

Now solid state circuitry — a by-product of the billion dollar space age — provides greater Stereo FM/AM performance with more audio power — has ten times the efficiency of comparable tube sets — yet uses but 1/10 the power — no more than a small electric light bulb.

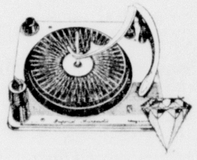


Vacuum tubes and components damaging heat — the source of most service troubles — are eliminated — in fact, the Astro-Sonic is so reliable that parts are guaranteed for five years — twenty times as long as the standard industry guarantee for tube sets.

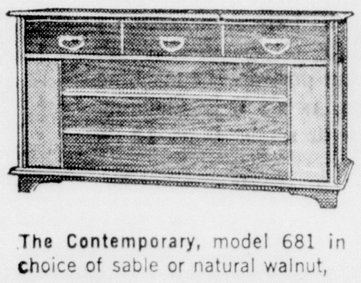


Now, large exponential treble horns — ten times as efficient as conventional cone speakers — reproduce treble tones without a blemish of distortion.

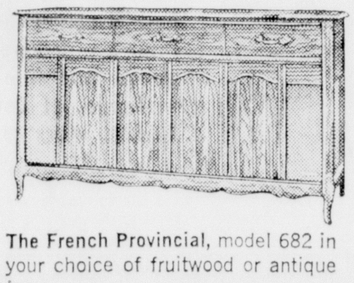
High efficiency 15" bass woofers give you bass definition you have never heard before.



The new "Micromatic 60" record player completely eliminates pitch distortion — for turntable speed is as accurate as your electric clock! The new pickup plays at only 1/10 ounce touch, banishing record and stylus wear — therefore the diamond stylus is guaranteed for ten years, and your records can last a lifetime.



The Contemporary, model 681 in choice of sable or natural walnut,



The French Provincial, model 682 in your choice of fruitwood or antique ivory,

Available in a variety of authentic styles and woods— come in for a thrilling demonstration of this magnificent instrument—you have never heard anything like it.

Unification Committee Reverses Stand

In a reversal of its action last month, the Marin County Augmented Committee on School District Organization last night threw out its recommendation for unification of the entire Tamalpais High School District area.

The committee today found itself virtually back where it started several years ago, only nine months away from the state deadline for unification proposals.

Elizabeth M. Deedy, Marin Junior College District representative, made the motion to rescind the December motion for the unification study, saying such action was "too premature at this time."

Her motion, early in the meeting which lasted nearly five hours at the Sir Francis Drake High School library, was quickly seconded by George Kowski of the Sausalito School District.

Vote on the motion to reject any intention to study only the entire area at this time was 15 to 8.

Voting against rescinding were county committee members Mrs. Eugene Crawford, Jean F. Kallmayer, Jack V. Mengel, and Roger Morse. Voting for the motion were Peter G. MacGowan, Earl Marshall, Alex Mitchell, Mrs. Frank E. Short Jr., Robert E. Rogers, and Mrs. Helen Wallace.

County committee member Adele Alpers was absent.

School district representatives voting for the rescinding were Bolinas-Stinson, Fairfax, Kentfield, Mill Valley, Marin Junior College, Nicasio, Reed, Sausalito and Ross.

Districts voting against were Lagunitas, Larkspur, San Anselmo and Tamalpais.

After long discussion of what should be done next, the augmented committee voted unanimously to study once more seven alternate proposals. Members of the county committee will report on the feasibility of these seven possible unification plans at the next meeting:

1. Unification of the Tamalpais High School attendance area;
2. Unification of the Redwood High School attendance area;
3. Unification of the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area;
4. Unification of the Redwood-Drake combined attendance areas;
5. Unification of two attendance areas, "split at the Corte Madera ridge";
6. Unification of the entire Tamalpais district excluding the Tiburon Peninsula;
7. Unification of the entire Tamalpais district (as originally proposed).

Next meeting of the augmented committee will be Feb. 20, at a location to be announced later.

GETS LETTERS, GIFTS

Girl Who Gave Bone To Sister Doing Well

Jill Rosean, a plucky 17-year-old Tamalpais High School junior who insisted on being the donor of a piece of bone to be grafted to her little sister's shoulder blade, was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Dr. William Clark of San Rafael, who performed the surgery Monday, believes Jill can go home within a week.

The piece of bone removed from Jill's hip was frozen and stored for grafting to the left shoulder blade of Leslie, 7, who has a benign tumor that restricts the use of her arm.

The operation on Leslie's shoulder is scheduled Wednesday morning.

Jill, meanwhile, has been receiving a flood of letters, telephone calls and telegrams of admiration for her gift to her sister.

The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosean of 418 Maple Street, Tamalpais Valley.

Sausalito Planners Re-Elect Officers

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night re-elected its full slate of officers to serve a one year term. They are: Mel Wax, chairman; Robert L. Nissen, vice chairman and Victor Abramson, secretary.

Commissioners also certified that the proposed new park on Harrison Avenue is in conformity with the master plan. The city is at present planning to file condemnation proceedings against William Allen for the site located across the street from the new Star of the Sea Church.

Concert Set Tomorrow At College

John H. Myers, head of the music department at College of Marin, will direct the Community Orechesra tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in a winter concert at Olney Hall on the campus in Kentfield.

The orchestra, made up of students and non-student members of the community, will play Mozart's "Linz" symphony, the "Faithful Shepherd Suite" by George Frederick Handel, a suite of pieces by Bela Bartok, one of Dvorak's Slavonic dances and the "Lucille Overture" by Gretry.

Selections for brass choir and organ by Gabrieli, Marcello and Pezel will feature organist Drummond Wolff.

There is no admission charge for the concert.

Mitchell Hall, the mammoth cadet dining hall at the U. S. Air Force Academy, can seat the entire cadet wing of 2,500 men at one time.

Marcus Elected President Of Marin Municipal Water Board

William Marcus of Mill Valley last night was elected president of the Marin Municipal Water District board, replacing Robert Anderson of Sausalito who had served as president since January, 1959.

In other actions, the board approved specifications and called for a bid opening on Feb. 5 for removal of snags causing a fire hazard at the upper end of Kent Lake.

An agreement was approved with the Sonoma County Flood Control District and the North Marin County Water District to undertake a feasibility study on the Warm Springs Dam project.

The floor control district will do the study and the two Marin water districts will split the cost. The project, formerly called the Dry Creek Dam, would bring Russian River water to the county.

The Marin Municipal Water District also:

1. Called for a bid opening on Jan. 23 on relocation of the water line to Hamilton Air Force Base, made necessary because of highway construction in the area.
2. Approved acquisition of a right-of-way through property of the Peace Lutheran Church in Marin City at 10 cents a square foot.
3. Accepted the low bid of Wilson and Chadwick for installing 1,940 feet of 15-inch pipe on the Alto-Tiburon Highway.
4. Approved an agreement with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for the final payment on the north Marin transmission line.
5. Approved a program to participate with property owners on Auburn Street, south of San Rafael, to share the cost of constructing a fire line.
6. Awarded a bid to the Water Works Supply Co. for $2,059.73 for a supply of service clamps.

Woman Revived By New Heart Massage

SAN MATEO (UPI)—Although her heart had apparently stopped beating and she was not breathing, a San Mateo woman was revived yesterday by ambulance crewmen using a new emergency technique of external heart massage.

The woman, Mrs. Mildred Jones, 35, had suffered an apparent heart attack, and was reported in fair condition at a hospital after her heartbeat was restored.

UNDERPASS SNAGS A.F. PROJECT

This $50,000 model home built for the Air Force plopped to the middle of the street yesterday when it snagged on a railroad underpass at Nashville, Tenn. Clarence Felker, an official of the National Homes Corp. of Lafayette, Ind., said police assured him the house would clear all underpasses in the city. A huge crane finally moved it. The house was built for the Air Force to use for personnel housing and temporary bases. It was en route to Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. (AP Wirephoto)

K.O. Polio Round III Set For March 10

TYPE III Sabin polio vaccine will be offered to Marin County residents on March 10 to complete the K.O. Polio drive conducted by physicians.

The date was set Tuesday at a meeting of the Bay Area Medical Assn. Committee to K.O. Polio, following a recommendation by the State Department of Public Health and recent approval of the vaccine by the U.S. surgeon general's office.

The Marin County committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Marin General Hospital to begin organizing clinics.

Vaccine will be administered in the same manner and at the same locations as in two previous day-long clinics.

Immunization is urged especially for children, for whom the danger of contracting the disease is greater.

Pope Says Ecumenical Council Exceeded Hopes

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII said today that the first session of the Ecumenical Council achieved more than the entire work of its 19th century predecessor.

told an audience of Rome men that "all hopes cond for the Ecumenical ncil have been in fact greatly exceeded." The council's first session adjourned Dec. 8. It will meet again on Sept. 8.

Prince Aspreno Giuseppe Colonna, prince assistant to the Papal throne, wished the Pope a happy new year on behalf of the nobility and expressed pleasure over the 81-year-old pontiff's return to good health from his year-end illness.

The Pope told the traditional new year audience that the last Ecumenical Council in 1869 and 1870, while "very precious" for its contributions to doctrine, achieved far less than the first two months of the present one.

He said 86 governments sent representatives to the opening of the council, but governments were not even invited to the last. Non-Catholic churches invited to the 1869 council, he said, responded "in a way to cause sadness," but the opposite was the case last fall.

"The confessions separated from the Catholic Church but belonging to the great Christian family were liberally represented and had an attitude of respect and courtesy" to the council's work, he said.

The council's long-term aim is Christian unity. Protestant delegates attended as observers and did not take part in the actual work of the council.

The Pope today also received the first copy of the Vatican's official yearbook, the Italian-language Annuario Pontificio 1963. The 1,864-page reference book on the church's world organization will go on general sale in a few weeks.

Meeting Postponed

Because all of the board members could not be present, the Union school District board postponed its meeting from last night until 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the school.

'Height Fright' Boy Saved

Nine-year-old Bill Baker was rescued by firemen from the top of an oak tree in Tamalpais Valley last night after he apparently had developed "height fright."

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mary Baker of 361 Ridgewood Avenue, called firemen at 6:25 p.m. after she was unable to raise a ladder to effect rescue herself. He son was 15 feet in the tree, having pulled himself up with a rope sling.

Firemen George Milliken and William Camlett edged the Baker boy down. Milliken, a former paratrooper, explaining, "It's the old story—height fright."

Firemen Elect

William McLean was last night elected president of the Belvedere Volunteer Firemen's Assn. Other officers are Elmer Fraass, vice president; Jerry Gillin, secretary and David Imrie, treasurer. The new officers will be installed Feb. 12 at the annual wives' dinner to be held at the firehouse.

Committee Heads Name By Novato Chamber

New committee heads were named yesterday by the Novato Chamber of Commerce board of directors for the coming year.

Those named were: Dr. Leo Wagner to head the annual dinner and breakfast committee; Lief Evensen, audit; Paul Terry, budget; David Douglass, by-laws; Eugene Trombley, chamber office relocation; John Novak, education; Wayne Womack, executive; Carl Williams and Ralph Briggs Jr., industrial; William Berry, inter community relations; Edwin Grundstrom, legislative; Albert Miller, membership; Richard Nave, military affairs; Peter Ferrarese, past president's council; Robert Carrow, public affairs; Leslie Barlow, publicity and advertising; Richard Gronberg, retail merchants and Richard Beyer, safety.

L. J. Derwin Ford Co., of 7401 Redwood Highway, offered to furnish the chamber with a station wagon if the chamber would pay about $350 for upkeep, insurance, taxes and license. The offer was accepted by the board.

The board also extended honorary membership to Col. William S. Harrell, commander of Hamilton Air Force Base; Jay Alexander (Marshal J of TV); Supervisor William Gnoss, and state Sen. John F. McCarthy.

Beer Bottle Case Dismissed

Mildred Frances Cagley, 35, of 608 C Street, who was suspected of hitting a man over the head with a beer bottle at a San Rafael tavern on Tuesday, was freed of all charges yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Deputy Dist. Atty Thomas T. Storer said no formal charge was lodged against the woman because the alleged victim, Clifford Stanley Ray, 44, failed to come in to the district attorney's office to sign the complaint.

She told Storer that Ray had provoked the incident and had later apologized to her.

Two Drivers Hurt In Crash

Two automobile drivers were injured in a Tiburon Peninsula collision yesterday which resulted in California Highway Patrol citation of one for his left turn. He was still in the hospital today but in good condition.

Arthur Lee Walker of 1013 First Street, Novato, was driving east on Tiburon Boulevard at 8:20 p.m. and made the turn at Blackfield Drive. Robert W. Creighton of 30 Juno Road nearby was driving west and later said he didn't note Walker's maneuver until too late. Creighton braked his car and skidded into the Walker vehicle. Walker was cited for an unsafe turn.

Both were taken to Marin General Hospital where Walker was treated for a cut forehead and a bruised left elbow and later transferred to Ross General Hospital. Creighton was treated at Marin General for face cuts, a cut right hand and multiple bruises.

'Catholic Family Of Year' Is Named

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—How do you bring up 11 children and have "no problems at all"?

"I suppose it was because we had great love for them and wanted them to be happy so they'd be good," said Mrs. Richard T. Seidel, named with her husband and children as the National Catholic Family of 1962.

Two sons are priests, Fathers John J. Seidel, 35, curate of St. Peter Canisius Church in Chicago, and Thomas E. Seidel, 31, Holy Cross father who teaches at Chicago's Notre Dame High School.

Two youngest daughters are nuns—Sisters Mary Gabriel, 23, and Catherine, 19. They are at the Benedictine Priory in St. Paul.

Announcement of the selection for the honor was made yesterday by the National Catholic Welfare Conference. Sunday the family will receive a plaque.

Seidel, 63, a retired oil executive, said his family is extremely grateful and humbly proud about the honor. He said there probably are many other families better qualified.

He said the children always were well behaved and attended daily Mass with their mother "from the time they were toddlers."

Mrs. Seidel voiced the hope "that our being named the Catholic Family of the Year will encourage our children and grandchildren to carry on with the same fine home life."

They have 16 grandchildren.

The other Seidel children are: Richard, 37; Wilmington, Del.; Stephen, 36, St. Paul; Joan, 26, Rochester, Minn., and Mrs. Miriam Murphy, 33, James, 29, Robert, 28, and Barbara, 25, all of Minneapolis.

Joan and Barbara are school teachers.

Two children died in infancy.

Ever Have a Yen to Swat One?

The Falcon is a sensibly-sized compact

When you can buy a true economy car, built in America with American know-how, in a size deliberately designed to give you and up to five passengers riding comfort, doesn't it make sense to look to Falcon?

When you can select in leisurely fashion the model, color, upholstery fabrics, engine and transmission options of your choice, from an almost endless variety, and still maintain firm control of your budget, doesn't it make sense to look to Falcon?

When you can choose from a range of a two-door sedan with standard transmission to a snappy hardtop or convertible with automatic transmission and wire wheel covers, doesn't it make sense to look to Falcon?

And, when you can actually buy an economy car with a full two-year warranty, and availability of service and parts anywhere, for as little as $1800, from a stock of over 75, doesn't it make sense to look to Ames Ford for your new Falcon?

SPECIFIC BUG-SWATTING EXAMPLE:

State Is Planning To Seek Credit, Interest Cost Cuts

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's consumer counsel, Mrs. Helen Nelson, spelled out administration plans today to seek "significant" cuts in credit and interest costs in California.

Mrs. Nelson, of Mill Valley, taking her cue from Brown's inaugural message, said most of the laws that regulate the lending of money date back to depression days.

"The wage earner was a much greater risk then than he is now with job security, unemployment insurance, disability insurance and social security," she said.

"It's high time that we review the rates in the light of what seems to us a considerably improved credit status."

Mrs. Nelson said she expected some resistance, observing that "nobody is willingly going to give up a good thing," but that she also looks for "tremendous support" when the governor's bills are introduced in the legislature this month.

The consumer counsel said the program will propose:

1. A reduction in the maximum 18 per cent annual interest on revolving charge accounts. Mrs. Nelson said her personal feeling is that "12 per cent is plenty."

2. A lowering in the legal maximum of 30 per cent a year for personal loans of less than $200 by a personal property broker (finance company) or industrial loan firm. Mrs. Nelson said, "we expect to bring these rates down by a significant amount."

3. Legislation to protect home buyers who prepay their mortgages. Under present laws, Mrs. Nelson said, the owners are required to pay the lending institutions something like 2 per cent of the full amount if they sell before a specified number of years.

4. Extending the Unruh credit act of 1959 to conditional sales contracts of less than $50. As it stands, such contracts are not regulated by the state and, Mrs. Nelson said, "the sky's the limit" on interest.

"In these days when we're trying to create jobs and reabsorb people displaced by automation," she said, "the amount of wage earners' money drawn off into non-productive interest rates is something we should concern ourselves with.

"If you pay 18 per cent interest on your refrigerator, this doesn't build any refrigerators."

But, Mrs. Nelson said, it's actually in the home buying field that the consumer has the least protection of law.

She advocated abolishing the charge on prepaid mortgages in the event the owner decides or is forced to sell his home within a penalty period.

"There should be some public policy on what is conscionable and what is unconscionable," she said.

Reapportionment Suits Opposition Is Growing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A new figure—the State Legislature's counsel—has joined the ranks opposing court suits demanding reapportionment of the State Senate.

Counsel A. C. Morrison was directed yesterday by the Joint Legislative Rules Committee to intervene on behalf of those fighting two current suits which contend the present Senate apportionment violates the U.S. Constitution's provision forbidding states from denying equal protection of the law to citizens.

Since voters rejected Prop. 23 in November which would have added 10 urban senators —five from Los Angeles—to the present 40, opponents have turned to the courts.

Claiming they are denied "equal protection," Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty and taxpayer Phill Silver point out their county's one senator represents 422 times as many persons as the senator from Mono-Inyo-Alpine counties.

Morrison, who intervenes infrequently in legal actions, says strategy will decide whether he goes in as a friend of the court or as a representative of the defendants.

California, he plans to argue, was justified in shifting in 1926 from a Senate based on population to one determined mostly by geography. Since that switch, voters have turned down four efforts to change it.

Saying he can't conceive of a court overruling repeated votes of the citizens, Sen. Hugh M. Burns, (D-Fresno) has declared the issue won't arise in the Senate pending resolution of the court cases.

Yorty's suit, filed in the State Supreme Court, names the Reapportionment Commission defendant. The commission, made up of elective state officers, is required by the State Constitution to reapportion the Senate and Assembly if the legislature doesn't do it after each federal census.

Silver's suit, in Los Angeles Federal District Court, names former State Sen. Richard Richards of Los Angeles.

Ross In Meeting On Zoning Map

The Ross Town Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today, will vote on adoption of an ordinance eliminating errors in the zoning map which was adopted a year ago with the town's master plan.

The changes involve lot area requirements on Woodside Way and the correction of zoning for certain commercial properties listed as residential.

The council also will vote on an ordinance amendment requiring a $10 fee and setting a time limit for firing subdivisions of two or three lots.

Your Car Rides Easier

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — If your 1963 model car rides better than its predecessor, credit a minor revolution that has taken place in the tires.

In three model years, two-ply tires have supplanted the older, stiffer four-plies on an estimated 80 per cent of new cars, according to The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. The more flexible two-ply, say experts, offers a smoother, softer ride.

Whistler's Mother May Be Next

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mona Lisa continued to pack them in today and headed for a possible record as a drawing card at the National Gallery of Art.

While the Leonardo da Vinci masterpiece basked in the glory of her first American showing, word came that another famous lady and a Paris Louvre companion—Whistler's Mother — may be headed for the United States.

Mona attracted 11,250 visitors yesterday and museum officials looked for a pickup in attendance on succeeding days.

Whether Mona would surpass the record of about 800,000 remained to be seen. This was set in 1948, when art treasures, secreted by the Germans in salt mines during World War II and found by triumphant Allied troops, were exhibited here.

A French Embassy aide said the James Whistler portrait and another famed painting, La Veilleuse, a 17th century work by Georges de la Tour, may be shipped from the Louvre next month for display at an Atlanta, Ga., museum.

All Cars May Get Seat Belts

DETROIT (UPI) — The American auto industry may equip all new cars with seat belts starting in 1964, it was learned yesterday.

The Ford Motor Co. made the proposal through the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. The AMA has held committee meetings on the idea and its board may vote on it this month.

Most automakers apparently favor making seat bels standard equipment even though it would cost around 75 million dollars a year. But it could save thousands of lives.

Government and safety officials also favor the plan. "Nothing could make us happier," National Safety Council President Howard Pyle said.

"We have estimated that seat belts in universal use could save at least 5,000 lives a year," Pyle added.

However, not all auto executives want to go along with Ford. Some regard it as a move by Ford to use seat belts to counteract possible adverse effects of its vast auto racing program.

Junipers, redwoods and cypress trees deposit in the soil around their trunks a secretion of tannin which acts as a repellent to insect life.

Little Fellow Is Battling Palsy

UNDER HIS OWN POWER—Timmy Fahey, 4, of Corte Madera, shows Morrison S. Gardner, consultant in special education at Marindale School, how well he rides a tricycle in spite of his long bout with cerebral palsy. (Independent-Journal photo)

Early recognition of symptoms plus professional help and family cooperation have enabled 4-year-old Timmy Fahey of Corte Madera to make great strides in overcoming cerebral palsy.

Timmy, youngest of three children, was only a year old when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fahey learned that he had cerebral palsy.

The child was unable to sit up and his left hand was perpetually clenched.

The Faheys moved from Portland, Ore., to California when Timmy was 15 months old. They soon obtained professional help through Marindale School in Terra Linda. Therapist Margaret Simpson showed them how to manipulate Timmy's paralyzed left arm.

Cerebral palsy, which usually is caused by brain damage before, during or after birth, immobilizes muscles by impairing the control centers in the brain. So in treating palsy victime, other nerve centers are "taught" to take over the motor functions.

Timmy's older brothers, Mike, 6, and Joe, 5, are credited by Mrs. Fahey with much of this nerve and muscle re-training.

They pulled him up to a sitting position over and over until he began to feel how to do it himself.

The Faheys had to overcome an instinctive desire to protect and help Timmy too much. They had to learn to let him struggle to roll over, to get up and to take steps.

"We had to be tough with him," said Mrs. Fahey.

Until last June Timmy had to wear a leg brace. Now he runs and plays with other children in the neighborhood, many of whom notice nothing wrong with Timmy.

Timmy's left hand and arm are still not as strong as his right and his sense of balance is not good, but he has learned to ride a bicycle with the aid of "helper" wheels.

Cerebral palsied children like Timmy receive therapy at Marindale School, which is operated by the Marin County public schools office. Equipment and other assistance are provided by United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, which also operates a special swimming program and summer recreation activities for afflicted children.

United Cerebral Palsy of Marin is directed and staffed by volunteers and is headed by Ben Barton Jr., president.

The organization will open its annual fund raising drive Tuesday. Three-fourths of the money received will be used in Marin County, while the remaining one-fourth will go to the national organization for research, training grants and support of legislation.

The Marin UCP group now contributes two $500 scholarships through San Francisco State College for graduate and upper division trainees in therapy and special education for handicapped students.

Romney Bought Up Big Share Of Stock

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan bought 13,494 shares of American Motors stock for $99,000 less than the market price on the day before he resigned from the auto company last November.

The bargain purchase, possible because of previously granted stock options, boosted Romney's holdings to about 118,000 shares, by far the largest of any individual.

For the three and one-half months he served as chairman and president of American Motors before announcing his candidacy for governor, Romney was paid $73,608 in salary and bonus.

He received $149,211 for the previous full year.

The figures were disclosed today in the proxy statement for the annual shareholders meeting of American Motors, to be held in Detroit Feb. 6.

Romney was elected governor on Nov. 6 and severed all connections with AMC on Nov. 15.

At that time he said he was placing his stock in trust while serving as governor.

Renewed Efforts For Roadside Rest Areas Started In California

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Weary motorists would get the chance to pull off crowded highways and relax at roadside rest areas if a renewed effort succeeds in the legislature.

A Department of Public Works plan envisions 228 such areas dotting the California landscape from Crescent City in the north to El Centro in the south.

Estimated cost would be an initial five million dollars for construction plus one million dollars annually for maintenance.

Funds for the project never became available over the years, mainly because neither the Division of Beaches and Parks nor the Division of Highways wanted the maintenance job.

The Division of Beaches and Parks now operates about 10 rest areas. Under a bill prepared for the Senate Transportation Committee these would be transferred to the Division of Highways.

Emerson Rhyner, an attorney for the Department of Public Works, told the committee yesterday that the construction costs would be absorbed by the State Highway Fund, but maintenance expenses would be payable from the General Fund.

The General Fund outlay has some opposition. Sen. Eugene McAteer, (D-San Francisco), is against it for one.

Three separate kinds of rest areas are planned, each varying in size and cost depending on its location.

The first and largest would be situated along the interstate highway system and other key arteries. These would contain parking areas for four to six trucks and 20 to 30 cars.

The second or medium size area would be located along less traveled, more recreational routes. Parking areas for one or two trucks and 13 to 18 autos would be provided.

The small rest areas would be on lightly traveled highways and would have space for about six cars.

Picnic tables, water and sanitary facilities and possible tourist information would be provided but not camping or recreational facilities.

The Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Transportation and Public Utilities is scheduled to consider the bill again next Tuesday.

San Jose School Trustees Named

James Swenson of 424 Alameda De La Loma, was appointed Tuesday night to fill out the term of Robert Allen on the San Jose Elementary School District board.

Allen's resignation became effective Jan. 1.

Swenson, who has lived in the district for five years, is paint manager of San Rafael Glass and Paint Co. He and his wife Beverly have two daughters, Jan, 14, who attends Terra Linda High School, and Karen, 10, who is in the fifth grade at Pacheco School.

The term will end June 30.

Mrs. Jean Ansley, board president, said seven applicants for the position were interviewed.

Russ Call Siberian Peasants Criminals

MOSCOW (AP) — A group of Siberian peasants who sought American help to leave the Soviet Union were yesterday described by a Soviet news agency as criminals and people addicted to beating their children.

The Soviet version of the peasants, as carried by the Novosti news agency, was in sharp contrast to the description given by U.S. Embassy officials. The peasants—six men, 12 women and 24 children — paraded into the embassy last week seeking help but were told nothing could be done for them. U.S. officials described the Siberians as healthy, good-minded people wanting to escape the hard life of Christians in the Soviet Union.

The group made its way 2,100 miles from Chernogorsk to Moscow, arriving last Thursday. After being heard in the embassy, the group was taken by bus to a hotel and later the Soviet government said they were being shipped back to their homes in Siberia.

Some of the peasants shouted as they were being led out of the embassy that they would be shot. Novosti told of children being hidden in pits as their parents sought to keep them from being taken away by Soviet officials.

In their protest to the American officials during the four hours they were in the compound being fed and questioned, the protesting group said Soviet officials were taking their children away from them.

Children in Soviet schools are taught atheism as a phase of Communist teaching, and the religious sect told the Americans they sought to avoid this.

As the Russians looked upon it, it was different. They accused the religious folk of abusing their children, making mental cases of them. A concerted drive was launched against them in Chernogorsk, the Novosti report said.

Novosti said the group now was being returned to Chernogorsk by train.

Mint marks are usually found on the reverse side of United States coins; any other initials on coins are the initials of the sculptors.

Ex-Felons Jailed For Making Meter Keys

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two ex-convicts were arrested yesterday and charged with manufacturing keys to San Francisco parking meters and selling the keys to teen-aged boys.

Burglary Inspectors Eugene Osuna and Nathan Pedrini said the keys, each of which would open a thousand meters, were sold for between $15 and $50 apiece.

Taken into custody were Clarence A. Hanson, 34, and David Wiggins, 39. Both men have served jail terms for theft, both are unemployed, and both live in Sacramento.

City officials have estimated that from $75,000 to $100,000 is stolen annually from parking meters by use of phony keys. Osuna and Pedrini said they believe the Sacramento operation was the backbone of the underground business.

The inspectors said the two made the keys from safety razor handles. In selling them, officers said, they offered customers not only the keys but maps showing where they would work and the times meter minders made collections.

Pedrini and Osuna said the operation had apparently been going on for several years.

Testimony from a disgruntled former member of the key-producing gang led to the arrest of Hanson and Wiggins, the officers said. The two suspects were held to answer before Superior Judge Leland J. Lazarus on felony charges of conspiracy to commit petty theft.

4 Marinites Are New Clausen Aides

Four Marin County residents have been appointed to campaign committees aiding Republican Donald H. Clausen's bid for Congress in the Jan. 22 special election.

They are Elmer S. Worlund, 113 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow, who will head a Veterans for Clausen committee; Dr. James L. Goebel and Dr. Robert F. Schell, both of San Rafael, who will serve as co-chairmen of a Medical Groups for Clausen Committee, and Dr. Bruce Manheim, who will serve as a member of the Doctors for Clausen Committee.

Population? Take Choice

If you like the idea that Marin County had 169,696 residents on Jan. 1, just stay with that estimate by the Marin County Development Assn. as printed in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

On the other hand if the population explosion has no great appeal, you might like a 162,800 estimate announced today by the California Taxpayers' Assn.

The latter source believes that since April of 1960 the county has increased 10.9 per cent, by 15,980.

Fire Hose Bids Told In Novato

The Novato Fire District board last night received four bids for 2,400 feet of two and a half inch fire hose and 1,000 feet of one and a half inch fire hose.

Albro Fire Equipment Co. of San Francisco with a bid of $1.21 per foot for the two and a half inch hose and 78 cents per foot on the one and a half inch hose, was the low bidder, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

Other bidders and their bids were: American Rubber Co. of Oakland, $1.28 and 86 cents; Wardlaw Fire Equipment Co. of La Habra, $1.27 and 89½ and Hercules Equipment and Rubber Co. of San Francisco $1.35 and 92 cents.

The bids were taken under advisement and will be awarded at the next meeting Jan. 23, Cavallero said.

Government Reports Nation's Job Situation Is Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today the nation's job situation remained virtually unchanged in December. Employment declined seasonally by 420,000 and unemployment increased by 16,000.

The usual cold weather effect on employment brought the total number of workers holding jobs to 67,561,000 compared to 67,981,000 in November.

Unemployment rose to 3,817,000 compared with the 3,801,000 in November. The December idle increase was considerably less than the 100,000 normally expected in December.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment to the work force was 5.6 per cent in December, compared with 5.8 per cent in November and 5.5 per cent in October. The jobless rate has been in this range through most of 1962.

Harold Goldstein, assistant labor statistics commissioner, said the December figures reflected no basic change in the job situation. He said it has remained much the same since early 1962.

Non-farm employment rose seasonally in December to 63.5 million or about 1.5 million above a year earlier.

Farm employment dropped more than seasonally between November and December to 4.1 million. This was believed due to extremely cold weather. Farm employment, however, is on a continuing decline.

Goldstein said the indicated growth of the labor force in 1962 was about 600,000 to 700,000, or considerably less than the growth anticipated on the basis of population figures.

The number of workers unemployed 15 weeks or longer rose seasonally by more than 100,000 in December to 979,000. This was about 250,000 below a year ago.

Both Employment, Jobless Are Up For The Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Employment and unemployment both rose in the Bay Area in December, two state agencies report.

Employment reached 1,202,100, a record for the month, said director Ernest B. Webb of the Department of Industrial Relations. The figure is 24,400 higher than a year ago.

The number of workers rose to record highs in trade, services, government and finance-insurance real estate.

Unemployment rose to 64,100, or 5.1 per cent of the labor force, said director Irving H. Perluss of the Department of Employment. This compared with 60,800, or 4.8 per cent, in November. A year ago unemployment was 63,500, or 5.1 per cent.

Ways Of Improving Veteran Tax Assessments Discussed

Ways of improving into-county relationships in the assessment of veterans' property were discussed yesterday at the 12th Annual Bay Area Veterans' Exemption Conference, held in the Marin County Civic Center.

Assessors and their employees from nine counties and seven cities in the Bay Area attended the meeting and heard Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel report on the Marin grand jury investigation of veterans' exemptions.

Broemmel emphasized that "it is not the job of assessors to be policemen." He said assessors have the duty to gather information on property and exemptions, but it is "up to grand juries and district attorneys" to investigate any violations.

The conference, he said, was concerned only with "how administration of exemptions can best be conducted under present laws, not as to whether the exemptions themselves have merit."

Investigations of veterans' exemptions are now being carried out in several other counties, including San Francisco and Contra Costa.

In addition to conference members, the meeting was attended by representatives from Sacramento and Fresno County assessors' offices and attorneys for the state Board of Equalization.

The conference, first held in Marin since the initial conference in 1951, was attended by 75 representatives. Next year's conference will be held in San Mateo County.

Ousted Paul Brown Is Shocked; Graham May Get Job

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Paul Brown's sudden dismissal after 17 years as coach of the Cleveland Browns ended a fantastic football era today and immediately gave rise to speculation that Otto Graham, his former star pupil, might succeed him.

Blanton Collier, Cleveland's offensive backfield coach and a close personal friend of Brown, also appeared to be in the running to replace the man whose whip-cracking methods helped the Browns win seven National Football League divisions titles and three world championships.

The 54-year-old Brown, who also was relieved of his general manager duties, apparently was so shocked by the suddenness of his firing that he went into seclusion last night.

Arthur Modell, president of the club which bears Brown's name, said "I have several men in mind as a possible successor and I hope to have an announcement within 10 days." He said he has talked to no one about the job.

Modell, who described the firing as "a simple reorganization," denied reports of friction between him and Brown.

Modell said he had been thinking about removing Brown for the past three weeks. He told Brown Monday.

"It was not a pleasant thing to do," said the 39-year-old former New York Advertising executive who bought the club for $4 million in March 1961.

"Paul Brown has made enormous contributions to the game of football, legendary contributions. I hope the club will continue to have his advice and guidance.

"The only reason I will give for the change, is that I believe it will serve the best interests of the Cleveland Browns."

Collier said, "I heard there were problems, but nobody thought this would happen." He said he was "pretty well floored" by the firing.

"It happened so fast, I've had no time to make any plans," Collier said. "I don't know what's going to happen, I haven't talked to Paul."

Even Collier, a close friend of Brown since their World War II days at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, did not know where Brown had gone.

Brown, according to Modell, will finish the six years remaining in his 10-year contract as vice president, "with the same compensation," an estimated $50,000 per year.

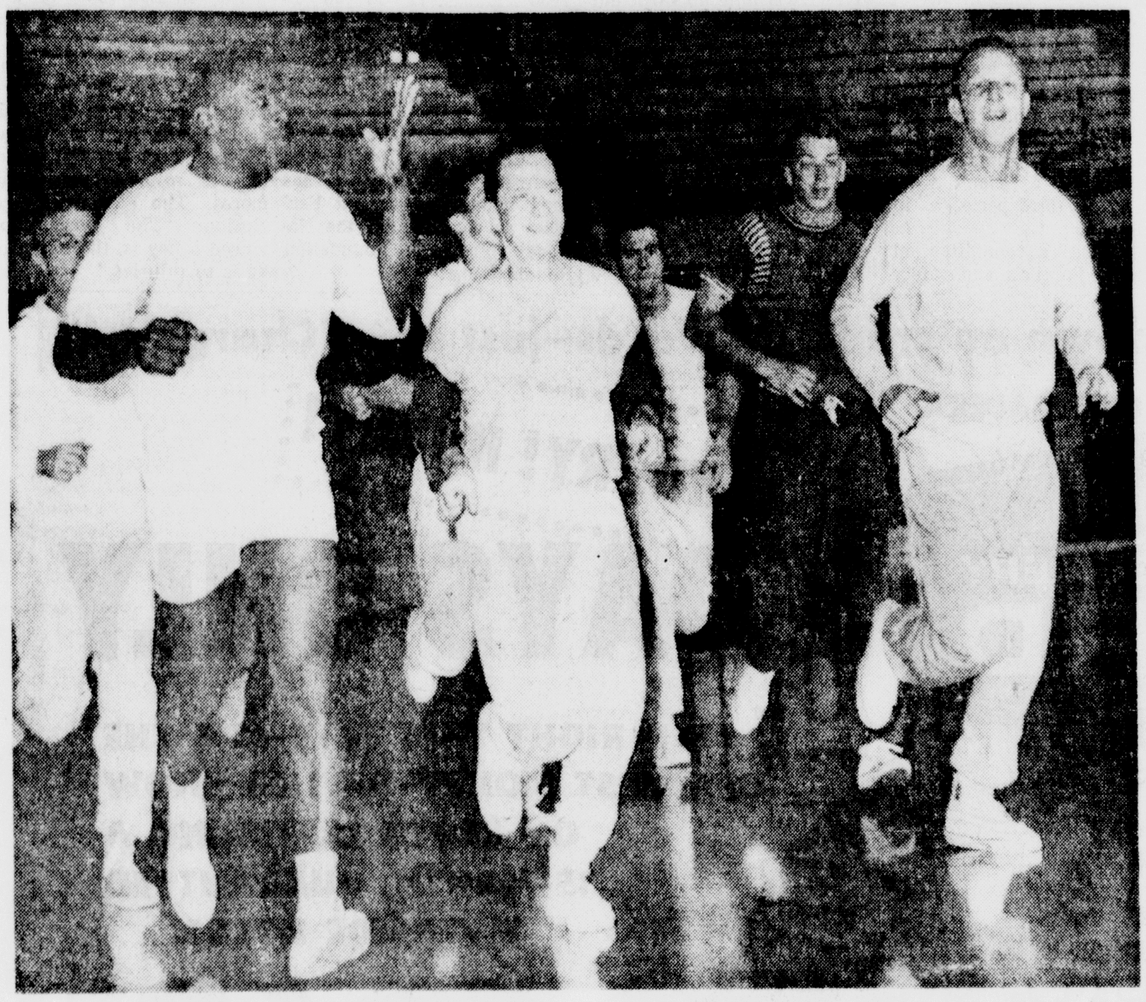
Collier was with the Browns when they were organized as part of the old All-America Conference in 1946. He left the team in 1954 to take over as head coach at the University of Kentucky where he stayed until last season.

Graham, one of the greatest pro quarterbacks, was the first player signed by Brown when he organized the team. Graham has been coaching at the Coast Guard Academy for four years.

Brown's firing has ended, at least temporarily, a brilliant 33-year coaching career which included 296 victories, 76 losses and 15 ties.

Among these are a 52-4-3 record in the All-America Conference from 1946 to 1949 and an 18-8-1 record as head coach at Ohio State University from 1941 to 1943.

In the NFL, Brown's team chalked up 115 victories, 49 losses and 15 ties. The Browns' last Eastern Division title was in 1957 and Cleveland's third-place finish with a 7-6-1 record last year was one of Brown's worst.



STAN THE MAN, YOUNG AT 42

Illustrating the theory that it's a good idea to be in good shape for spring training, Stan Musial (right), star of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League, and other ball players are taking a pre-spring training series of workouts. Others in front row are (from left) Cardinal Bill White and St. Louis trainer Bob Bauman. Musial, 42, says such workouts have added years to his playing caree.

NCAA Will Continue Fighting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Delegates to the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. convention headed home today after adopting an unexpectedly tough four-point policy that shows they intend to keep fighting the Amateur Athletic Union.

The delegates also reaffirmed their support of three new sports federations which have invaded fields governed by the AAU. The immediate affect of the strong stand — which was particularly unexpected in the wake of apparent progress toward arbitration of the dispute under Gen. Douglas MacArthur — will be on the AAU sanctioned major indoor track and field meets in the East which begin at Boston Saturday night.

It was learned that none of the NCAA Eastern colleges entered in the Boston meet would compete.

After yesterday's action, the 600 NCAA member schools are pledged to a policy that calls for withdrawal from membership in the AAU until the situation improves, a boycott of AAU events not sanctioned by the federations, withdrawal of all personnel from AAU committees in basketball, gymnastics and track and field, and a limitation which restricts use of institutional facilities and equipment to collegiate and federation activities.

A PROVISO

The policy on facilities and equipment carries the proviso that the AAU may "enjoy these same privileges" if it either accepts membership in the federations or agrees to a form of dual sanctions.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA doubted any defiance of the policy, which came in the form of a resolution.

While the AAU indoor meets are the immediate losers, the cut-and-dried over-all meaning of the NCAA policy is that the colleges and universities are out of events not sanctioned by the federations until some sort of a settlement is reached in the 2½-year dispute that has raged over administration of amateur athletics.

The AAU hold international recognition as the U.S. governing body in three sports in which federations have been created—track and field, basketball and gymnastics.

Detroit Stars Linked With Gamblers; Ask For Lie Tests

DETROIT (UPI) — Four Detroit Lions players have volunteered to take lie detector tests to prove that acquaintanceship with known gamblers did not affect their play.

William Clay Ford, Lions president, said that Darris McCord, John Gordy, Alex Karras and Wayne Walker all volunteered to take the tests.

Three of the players — Karras, Gordy and Walker—were named in a report made by Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards to the Lions management and National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

KNOWN GAMBLERS

The report linked the three players with known gamblers but no criminal actions were discovered in the associations.

Ford said yesterday it had been his understanding that Rozelle was coming to Detroit early next week to take personal charge of the investigation.

In New York, however, Rozelle denied he planned to question the four players and said he did not have any plans to come to Detroit. Rozelle said only that the investigation was continuing and he will make a statement when it is concluded.

Ford said he was convinced all the Lions players were in the clear but he conceded some of them may have used "poor judgment."

McCord, a defensive end, was not mentioned by name in the report.

Edwards said that his department was interested in four Detroit men who went to Miami, Fla., last Sunday to watch the playoff bowl in which the Lions defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers.

He identified the men as Vito (Billy Jack) Giacalone, Mike (The Enforcer) Rubino, Anthony J. Zerilli and Anthony J. Corrado.

While at the game, the four were kept under surveillance and pictures were taken by Miami authorities. Edwards said no attempt was made by the men to contact Lions players.

In Los Angeles yesterday, Karras admitted he rode on a "party bus" with Gordy on the return trip from the Lions-Cleveland Browns exhibition game at Cleveland Aug. 18. Edwards said the bus was "hoodlum operated." The bus, equipped with a bar and bunks, was driven by either Vita Giacalone or his brother, Anthony.

S.F. Track Meet Set For Feb. 15

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Olympic broad jump champion and current world record holder Ralph Boston will compete in the Golden Gate Invitational indoor track and field meet Feb. 15, it was announced today by local promoters.

Boston holds the outdoor mark for the broad jump of 27 feet 1¾ inches, although a leap of 27-3¼ by Russia's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan is up for recognition.

Pro Grid Probe 'Poppycock'

PRESS BOX VIEWS

BY JACK HANLEY

Phineas Finnegan is at it again. Phineas is a caustic critic. Periodically he scoffs at us. However, we are not the target of his latest communique that leads off with a blast against "a lot of poppycock, balderdash and folderol."

That's the way Phineas refers to "all the hullabaloo going on the past week in the NFL." Phineas says he is losing his patience.

"I've kept a chonological account of the entire affair," writes Finnegan. "It all started on Jan. 3 when George Halas said he had asked NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle several weeks ago to investigate rumors of pro football fixes.

"THAT SAME day Rozelle said the league's investigation staff of 16 former FBI agents was on the job. Sixteen undercover men! First time I knew that. But what did they turn up? Nothing, literally nothing, that wasn't already known to Halas and Rozelle.

"The next day, Jan. 4, Rozelle announced he told Halas that the league investigators turned up the fact that some of Halas' Bears had been associating with undesirable characters.

"Now, it was Halas' turn. Sure enough, on Jan. 5, from Chicago came the disclosure that Bear fullback Rick Casares voluntarily took and passed two lie detector tests. Casares admitted he had a friend named Zaza, not to be confused with the glamorous Zza Zza. Casares' friend was a Chicago gambler.

"OF PARTICULAR interest in the Jan. 5 disclosures from Chicago was the fact that Casares took his first lie detector test on Oct. 10, 1961. The reason for it was a couple of goal line mistakes he made in a 1960 Bear-Ram game that the Bears were supposed to win but didn't, the game ending in a 24-24 tie.

"Halas professed his faith in Casares and declared he was convinced not a single one of his Bears ever tried to shave points or otherwise fix a football game.

"You know what I think? I think Halas and Rozelle staged a neat publicity stunt. Sure, they were forced into it because they knew U.S. Senate rackets committee investigators were nosing around. Committee probers probably got a tip about that 1961 lie detector test Casares took.

"SO THE NFL began washing slightly soiled linen publicly. But what started out to be a sensational whodunit isn't living up to its fanfare of publicity and I'm beginning to lose my patience. If there's been any real fix, say so. Otherwise, stop insulting my intelligence with such sensations as a defensive tackle having a part ownership in a Detroit bar. What's criminal about that?"

NOVATO B CAGERS SET SCORING MARK

The Novato B cagers yesterday set a school record for scoring the most points in a single game when the junior Hornets downed the St. Vincent B squad of Petaluma 69-42.

It was the sixth straight victory for the basketballers who hit on 52 per cent of their field goal attempts. The Hornets, coached by Marlin Olsen, scored 17 points in the first quarter, 20 in the second, 16 in the third and 16 in the final stanza for the Be team record.

Quarters in B team competition are seven minutes, one minute less than varsity time.

The Phillips brothers of Novato proved too much for St. Vincent as Bob Phillips was high with 17 points and his brother Don followed with 14 points.

Perch, Flounder And Striper Fishing Great At China Camp

STEVENS

For three solid months the fishing was hot in the San Pablo Bay on the Contra Costa side, but slow on the Marin side. For the past several days the reverse has been true.

Perch, flounders and stripers were unloaded in copious quantities at China Camp, according to Alice Quan, last weekend. Alice did a bit of mild raving over the results but lamented the fact that no skiffs were allowed out on Monday and Tuesday because of rough water. So it's merely a case of the bay flattening out on the Marin side to continue the really productive fishing. Alice mentioned one boat with four aboard coming to dock with limits from 10 pounds up. We maintain that's good fishing.

ODDLY, the bay is smooth and inviting on the Contra Costa side of the bay but the yield of bass per rod is not too hot. Dowrelio's reported a bit over one fish per rod on both Saturday and Sunday. Tuesday one boat came in at noon with three bass. The flounder fishing is tops in that area, however. Even the youngsters are reaping a harvest of the plump and hungry flounders.

To get a line of what's what ala artificial lures, I contacted Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's Bait House in Oakland. Hal waxed eloquent in making his report. He told me of the stunt of Oldtimer "Red" Ceremelli who did a solo act under the Golden Gate Bridge. Red garnered himself a mixture: limit of bass to five pounds, limit of perch and a limit of rockfish. (Hal must have meant Red's personal limit of needed fish.)

BOENNER also reported some fast action trolling Red Rock and the Southampton Shoals. To be specific, the boat Cherokee (on Sunday) landed six limits of bass to 14 pounds at Red Rock; the R.S.P. netted 122 limits to 14 pounds and the Lucky Day had 15 bass to 20 pounds from the same area. The Striper took eight bass to 14 pounds at Southampton Shoals; the Troller had 13 to 10 pounds at Red Rock; the Trade Winds boated seven limits to 15 pounds at Red Rock; John Terry took two stripers off Rodeo to 22 pounds and Harold Froines of Berkeley hooked, played and hauled aboard a 40 pound sturgeon.

On Monday, in spite of rough weather and water, the boat R.S.P. netted six limits of bass to 16 pounds at Southampton Shoals and was through fishing at 9:30 a.m. The Troller, on Monday, had three limits to 12 pounds fishing the Red Rock sector.

IF YOU haven't tried eating flounder fillets, on your next foray in the upper San Pablo Bay take along some small hooks, rig up with small pieces of bait and get yourselves a mess of extremely fine eating flatties. Seems they are running rather larger than usual. Alice Quan reported one chap having a nice string of flounders with at least one going three pounds.

Floyd-Sonny Bout Cancelled—Liston

CHICAGO (AP)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston today rejected an announced April 4 rematch with Floyd Patterson at Miami Beach, asserting he preferred the bout to be held in early May in Baltimore.

Almost simultaneously, Liston's adviser expressed the same sentiments in New York.

"Sonny is willing to defend the title against Patterson in May, in Baltimore, but not until he has received the money due him from the first fight," advisor Jack Nilon told The Associated Press by telephone today.

Nilon said Liston, who knocked out Patterson in the first round in Chicago, Sept. 25, still has about $207,000 due him from Championship Sports, Inc., promoters of the fight.

From his corner in Chicago, Liston said he knew nothing about the date and site for the return with Patterson and emphasized "they better start talking to me about this thing."

Liston's Chicago publicity chief, Ben Bentley, said the champion had not talked recently with Championship Sports, or his own adviser, Jack Nilon, about the details of a rematch.

Liston added: "Unless this thing is explained to my satisfaction, "I'll express my stand in a press conference."

In New York, November said the details had not all been worked out for the bout at Miami Beach's Convention Hall, but indicated the fight would be telecast to theaters around the country.

That was the setup for the first fight in which Liston hardly gave the paying customers enough time to settle back in their seats before dispatching Patterson in 2 minutes, 6 seconds of the first round at Chicago's Comiskey Park last Sept. 25.

Patterson had the contractual right to name the date, site and promoter for the rematch and did so despite the opposition of Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser, who feels April 4 is too late in the tourist season for Miami Beach

"But," said Nilon, "if Patterson demands Miami Beach there is not much we can do about it."

Why More Third Period Grid Injuries?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Why should more injuries occur in the third quarter of college football games than in any of the other three periods?

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. started looking for the answer after 1958 statistics showed three times as many players were injured in the third period as in the first and nearly twice as many were hurt in the third period as in the fourth.

The NCAA's committee on sports injuries and safety thought the reason might be that players were getting "cold" between halves and weren't warming up sufficiently before starting the third period.

So mandatory two-minute half-time warmups were instituted by many teams. And in 1962, the committee reported Tuesday, third-period injuries were down 8 per cent from 1958.

The committee released these figures, showing the per cent of injuries in each quarter in 1958 and 1962:

	1	2	3	4
1958	12	33	36	19
1962	13	34	28	25

The committee said the high rate of second-period injuries may reflect the players' growing stiffness and the fourth-period injuries may be a reflection of their growing weariness.

Committee chairman Ernest B. McCoy, athletic director of Pennsylvania State University, said 1958 statistics also showed 36 per cent of the college players injured were sophomores. The committee's conclusion: "The more experienced a boy is, the less prone he is to injuries."

New Four-Cylinder Outboard Engine Introduced On Market

Once in a while something new and startling hits the marine market. Currently, it's the new Homelite outboard, advertised as possessing outboard convenience with inboard economy. This four-cylinder in line, 55 h.p. engine is not new in the sense of dubious experimentation. But new with the dependability of exhaustive research by Homelite, a division of Textron Inc., one of the nation's leading diversified industrial corporations. A top team of Homelite experts was assigned the job of cracking the four-cycle barrier in outboards.

The familiar four-cycle automotive-type engine had never been successfully adapted to outboard use. And it's interesting to find out what finally made it feasible. It was the sudden increase in outboard size and horsepower. Also the construction of bigger and stronger boats designed to handle that increase in power and weight. And the time was right for the advent of four-cycle economy in the outboard field. After being put through nearly 10,000 hours of in-use testing under all circumstances any outboarder would ever encounter, it came out "smelling like a rose."

I STOOD looking at the standard red gasoline tank that belonged to the Homelite outboard. It was new and shiny. The usual "caution, gasoline" was printed in white letters on one side. But something was different — not usual. What? Then suddenly the message on top of the tank stood out. "Don't mix oil with gasoline," it warned.

Chuck Fillingame, owner of the Marin Boat House in San Rafael, and dealer for the Homelite, grinned as he remarked, "That's right. No oil goes into the gasoline. With this engine, just say 'Fill 'er up!' And use any gas—premium or regular."

HE EXPLAINED that on the intake stroke, fresh cool air and gasoline are drawn into the cylinder. Oil isn't needed in the fuel charge because this engine has an independent lubricating system that constantly circulates a fresh supply of undiluted oil.

Next came a demonstration of its abilities. On the San Rafael Canal speed was held to the required five miles per hour. There was no vibration; only a sensation of smooth power. Yet it purred like a kitten. Going aft, he disconnected the fuel line, saying, "Just so you'll notice how long it will run on the small amount of gas in the carb bowl." And it did take a remarkably long time before it gave out.

OPPOSITE the Bird Cage we ran into chop. Opening the throttle, the hull planed almost instantly. This craft was a 16-foot lapstreak, and carrying two passengers forward and bucking some tide and wind, the speed registered 30 mph at open throttle. There were no fumes, due to the underwater exhaust outlet. A portable radio could have been played and enjoyed above the sound of the outboard.

Tom McCahill, automobile and power boat authority gave the Homelite a thorough test. In a 202-mile run at a planned average of 25 mph, he was able to hold speed for better than three-quarters of the way, and was only forced to drop to a slower speed when he ran into adverse weather conditions. Oil consumed for the whole trip was ¼ pint. And he stated that the total fuel cost was a figure of startling economy.

"Several things about the engine impressed me," he reported. "Especially the automobile-type dependability. The engine, as well as the boat, was taking a horrible beating when the going got rough."

HE ALSO marveled that the beautifully-styled 55 h.p. package, pushing a big 18 foot lapstrake hull with a gross weight of 2,230 pounds was able to average 25 mph for more than 175 miles.

In answer to a query on Homelite's service, Chuck explained that each dealer maintains a stock of parts, and is equipped to handle any servicing problem. And in back of every dealer stands a Homelite factory branch. A network of 56 branches guides the sales and service throughout the country. Staffed by expert factory-trained mechanics, each branch has the inventory to give factory support through your dealer . . . right at the local level.

USC Honored By Helms Foundation

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The University of Southern California, already named United Press International 1962 college football national champion, today was named national champion by the Helms Athletic Foundation.

Helms, which has selected a champion after the bowl games since 1900, cited the Trojans first undefeated record since 1932 and the 42-37 Rose Bowl victory over Wisconsin on New Year's Day.

USC also received the Helms crown in 1931 and 1932.

Drysdale Gets Another Honor

HOUSTON (AP) — Don Drysdale, Los Angeles Dodgers' ace pitcher and 25-game winner last year, has been selected "Pitcher of the year" by the Houston chapter, Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Drysdale, the biggest National League winner since 1956, will receive the Dickie Kerr award at the third annual Major League dinner here Jan. 22.

The award is given in honor of Kerr, the little southpaw who stayed honest in the "Black Sox" scandal of 1919.

San Rafael Rated Strong Contender For Second Straight MAL Cage Title

(Last in a series on Marin Athletic League basketball prospects)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

The San Rafael High School basketballers will be defending their Marin Athletic League crown when they take the court tomorrow night in the league opener.

And, according to the concensus of the coaches of the league, the Bulldogs may make it two years in a row.

San Rafael closed out its practice game campaign with an even 6-6 record and finished second in the MCAL basketball tournament after losing to Marin Catholic High School in the final game.

It will be coach Mike Diaz's second year as cage coach for the Bulldogs. He guided his athletes to the MCAL championship last year as the Bulldogs lost only one game (to Redwood) in their 10 league contests.

GOOD DEPTH

San Rafael is blessed with a prime ingredient which may make the difference between a winning team and a loser: Depth. Diaz has been making good use of his talent during the practice season, allowing all his boys to get in some action in preparation for the MCAL loop.

Starting forwards for San Rafael are Rod Monti, the leading scorer of last year's squad, and Bill Pendergrass. Monti, a 6-2 junior, hurt his ankle before basketball season and is still favoring it slightly. Pendergrass, a senior, stands 6-1.

Starting guards are Wade Roberts, 5-10 junior, and John Franzman, a 5-9 senior. Starting in the center slot for the Bulldogs is John MacKennon, a 6-4 junior.

MacKennon, the team captain, has been the workhorse so far this year, both on the boards and in the scoring, Diaz declared.

The third forward for San Rafael is Rich Ahern, a 6-1 junior. Bruce Wold, a little 5-6 senior guard, is a transfer from Montgomery High School who was named All-League for his B team last year. Wold will be seeing a lot of action at the guard position.

Diaz said Wold does a good job on a press and has a fine set shot. Another guard who will see quite a bit of play is Tyler Weeks, a 5-6 senior. He is called the "fireman" of the team and abounds with energy and hustle.

FAST BREAK

The Bulldogs will be relying on their fast break on offense and full-court press on defense to carry them to a big season. It will be a change from last year when the Bulldogs used ball control as their weapon to win the championship flag.

Diaz said the cagers have adjusted their defense real well in the change to the fast break which takes away much of a team's defense.

Biggest point-makers for San Rafael this year will be Monti and MacKennon. MacKennon should be the top rebounder, using all of his size under the boards.

THE ROSTER

Other cagers on the San Rafael roster are center Pat Haven (6-2, junior); forwards Joe Allyn (6-1, senior) and Tom Degenhart (6-2, senior), and guards Tom Massip (5-9, junior), Mike Menne (5-10, senior), Jim Peccorini (5-9, senior) and Steve Spurling (6-0, junior).

Of the team, only Monti is returning from last year's front line.

Diaz feels the league will be a battle between his Bulldogs, Marin Catholic, Drake and Tamalpais. "All of these teams are going to have to fight to win the league. All four teams can hurt each other," the coach commented.

Tittle Will Quit After '63 Season

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Y. A. Tittle, the 36-year-old quarterback who just finished his finest season in professional football, says he'll play one more year for the New York Giants, then quit.

"Next season is it for me," Tittle said in an interview yesterday. "I probably could keep going, but my insurance business in Palo Alto requires more and more of my time.

"A guy can't play forever, and I've got three children to think about. I would like to stay in football in some minor capacity, but I'm not going to neglect my business to do it.

"My playing days will be over next December."

Tittle, traded to New York by San Francisco in 1961, helped the Giants win two consecutive Eastern Conference titles in the National Football League. In 1962, he set a record by throwing 33 touchdown passes.

New Defense Head Takes Over In West Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — Kai-Uwe von Hassel took over yesterday as West Germany's defense minister, replacing controversial Franz Josef Strauss.

Hassel, 49, was named by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the cabinet crisis that arose over Strauss' part in the Spiegel affair. The new minister delayed coming to Bonn to close out matters in the state of Schleswig-Holstein, where he served as minister president (governor) for the past eight years.

Strauss during his 1956-62 period in office built up the West German armed forces from scratch to 400,000 men. But the public generally believed that he instigated the treason action against the publisher and editors of the news magazine Der Spiegel to get revenge for its constant criticism of him.

Hassel, a comparative unknown in national politics, has issued no statements on defense policy or otherwise given a clue to his thinking about it.

Had Oroville Dam been completed in December, 1955, the Yuba City flood disaster, which cost the lives of 40 people, would have been prevented.

BENEFIT PLANNED

Music Director Makes Do With Old Flugels At School

"We have four flugels, an old valve trombone and a 'C' melody saxaphone of the type used by Guy Lombardo in his heyday in Canada. The flugel horns were used during the Civil War. They are all antiques."

This was Cesare Claudio, Sausalito School District music director, speaking. Claudio says the district has about 35 instruments and could use twice that many.

"I have turned away more than 200 students in the last two years because of lack of instruments," he said.

Because of this music-hungry state of Sausalito and Marin City students, Claudio is delighted that the Edgewater Foundation has been formed. The non-profit, chartered organization has set as its first goal obtaining more instruments for the district.

The foundation will hold a "concerto for children" at 8 p.m. Feb. 15 at Redwood High School. Entertaining will be 60 players from the San Francisco Symphony. Nancy Cronburg, dramatic soprano of San Francisco, will be guest artist.

Claudio will direct the orchestra.

The director said he uses some of the old instruments, regardless of age. "Instruments are expensive," he said. "Some such as a saxaphone may cost as much as $350." The youngsters obtain their instruments mainly from the district on loan at no charge. The district maintains them.

The foundation, headed by Mrs. Delman D. Smith, has collected $280 so far in donations for instruments.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Tides Bookshop, Sausalito; Miracle Music, San Rafael, and De Martini Drugs, San Anselmo.

State Curriculum Unit To Fight Curtailment Of New Textbooks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State Curriculum Commission determined yesterday to fight any curtailment in its new geography and history textbooks which Brown administration budget slashes would require.

Of $948,000 trimmed from a 12-million-dollar allocation for textbook procurement, $430,000 was trimmed under the legislature's directive that books produced by a publishing company cannot cost more than 13 per cent over the state printing cost.

"We have worked out the very best program for the children of California, and the State Board of Education ought to find a way to carry it out," declared Dr. H. M. McPherson, Napa school superintendent.

The commission's recommendations for sixth and seventh grade history and geography texts will be submitted tomorrow to the State Board of Education for adoption. The two favored books produced by Ginn and Co., would cost $4,598,559.

Ginn and Co. of Boston refuses to supply plates for state printing of the texts.

McPherson, a commission member, said the budget saving dictated under the legislature's rule would amount to about 50 cents a child. The 50 cents could be saved by using an inferior text.

"But there's a hell of a lot more difference than the 50 cents between a good book and a book that is not so good," McPherson declared.

The nine commission members unanimously agreed to seek State Board of Education approval for its full program of basic and supplementary texts.

The commission said it would not offer less costly alternatives unless the state board determined not to seek the necessary funds from the legislature.

Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, new state superintendent of public instruction, was not present during the discussion of textbook purchase fund allocations.

As superintendent, he will serve as the curriculum commission chairman. He was expected at the commission's afternoon session to take over as presiding officer.

By BARBARA HOSMER

The chairman of film reviewers for the California P-TA magazine, Mrs. Ruth B. Hedges of Los Angeles, explained how she and her reviewing staff evaluate films with regard to their suitability for children and teen-agers.

Mrs. Hedges, who is motion picture chairman for the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, spoke at their meeting of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council Tuesday at the College of Marin.

She listed several points used by her staff in evaluation for film reviews which are available to Marin parents from the magazine or through a telephone call to the San Rafael or Mill Valley Public Libraries.

MRS. HEDGES said her reviewers are mostly mothers who are teachers on leave to rear their children, but there are also some men and often she will take youngsters with her to previews, which the staff attends with the press reviewers for newspapers and national magazines.

"But I won't keep them if they are mentally lazy," she stated. "They have to really think about the picture and give the reasons why in their reviews.

"We don't see a film on a double bill—they will merge, you can't evaluate either clearly, and there's the problem of fatigue," she said.

ALSO THEY do not review for children under the age of 6. "We don't want the responsibility because children vary tremendously in terms of maturity and emotion at that age," she said.

Her reviewers must keep in mind "this film is going to be seen by children," she said. "We want people to think, 'I'm going to see a film children will see,'" and explained that stage plays are another matter entirely, for they will be seen strictly by an adult audience, but that children make up from 20 to 50 per cent of film audiences.

SHE ALSO asks her reviewers to think in terms of teen-agers, "Is this strengthening what you are teaching them at home or is it working against you?" is the question she urges them to keep in mind.

"I try not to get too far away from the audience in reviewing," she said. She sometimes takes children or teen-agers to suitable previews. Then she listens carefully to their chatter on the way home and asks some questions—"What did you like (or dislike) about it? Who would you suggest would like that? Why wouldn't they like it?"

SOMETIMES an opinion is based entirely on a person's taste," Mrs. Hedges said, adding that since she didn't care much for Westerns, she would take a Western fan with her to such a film to help give an opinion.

"We try our best to give parents information to let them decide whether their child should see a film," she said. "Every parent thinks his own child is mature, so sometimes you have to think of other children."

SHE RECOMMENDED that parents not just read the rating adjective for a film, but really read the whole review, for often a good film may be qualified by a particularly violent scene which might upset one child but not another.

"People who are very critical—usually those who don't go to movies much — might find the dubious plot of the film "Jumbo" objectionable," Mrs. Hedges said, "But the plot is so submerged in the wonderful circus scenes that no child would probably even remember it.

"WE WANT to give as much information as we are capable of so a parent can decide for his own child," Mrs. Hedges emphasized.

Del Mesa Couple Hosting Post-Holiday Party Saturday

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini of Del Mesa are entertaining at a post-holiday party Saturday night at their home. They've invited 20 friends for cocktails and dinner. Mrs. Barsocchini explained that with four children home from school during the holidays and family dinners and gatherings filling the days, she and her husband had little opportunity to entertain friends. Hence, Saturday's party was arranged.

Celebrating Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Barsocchini and their children were Barbara Barsocchini's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Albert de Ferrari, her sister, Mrs. Henry Wilks, and husband, all of Greenbrae, and her grandmother, Mrs. Peter Jorgensen, who lives at Pine Lane Apartments in Kentfield.

MR. AND MRS. GUS K. BURGREN of San Anselmo sail Monday on the Lurline for a two months vacation in Hawaii. They'll stay at the Halekulani in Honolulu. In their party will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peckham of Reno and Robert Gordon of San Francisco. They will be most of the time in Honolulu but for a while on the island of Hawaii.

THE HARDING McPHUNS of Greenbrae and their two boys, Dan, a junior at Redwood High School, and Bruce, who attends the Kentfield school, have returned from two weeks at Squaw Valley. The boys spent most of their time on the ski slopes.

DR. AND MRS. RODNEY B. HARTMAN have returned from an exciting 3-month world trip. Prime purpose was attendance at the World Medical convention in New Delhi. Doctor Hartman said the delegates discussed medical problems throughout the world and that he considered the best talk was given by Mrs. Barbara Ward (Lady Jackson), an economist, who declared there had been an over emphasis on industrialization instead of on agricultural matters. She spoke against pork barrels and bureaucracy.

The Hartmans went to many countries before India. They flew to New York, went to Portugal and Spain and were particularly impressed with the Valley of the Fallen, an enormous cathedral made by tunneling into a mountain, a memorial to those who died in the Spanish Civil War. Next flight of the Hartmans was to Paris where they met Tom and Elsie Bennett of Mill Valley. The Hartmans flew to Italy (they had been there in 1954) then to Greece. They were entertained in Athens by Dr. Fotis Smyrniopsis, an internist, and his wife and toured the sea coast with them. The Hartmans flew to Turkey then to Cairo, Egypt, saw the pyramids and famous tombs, then went to Beirut where they met Murray Dailey, former curator of the Marin Junior Museum, who is a graduate student in parasitology at the University of Beirut.

Doctor and Mrs. Hartman visited the Holy Land, flew to Telaviv where they stayed several days then to Teheran and Karachi, Pakistan. There the Hartmans were delayed because of the trouble with India. The visitors toured India and were entertained by many dignitaries. After the conference in New Delhi the Hartmans went to Malaya, Burma, Hong Kong, Kowloon, Manila, and Japan where the Hartmans stayed in Japanese inns. They flew to Hawaii and attended Christmas Eve services in the first church in the islands.

MR. AND MRS. JOEL HOROWITZ of Belvedere and their children, Joelle and David, have just returned from a delightful vacation in Mexico. They enjoyed Christmas and New Year's in Mazatlan. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Newman (Diane Horowitz), son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horowitz, recently moved from the East Bay to the home they bought in Fairhills, San Rafael. The Newmans went East for the holidays and visited Paul's family in Montclair, N. J.

Mrs. Eldon Hasstedt will be installed as president of the Novato Y-Wives Club at Nave Lanes on Thursday.

Mrs. Hasstedt served as secretary-treasurer of the club during her first year as a member of the organization.

Mothers-In-Law Used To Be Belled

NEW YORK (AP) — A pair of ancient chopines edged with little silver bells to frighten demons are a part of an exhibition of antique and modern bells at the Traphagen School of Fashion.

The bells are similar to those worn by Navajo Indian mothers-in-law worn by luckless women to apprise their sons-in-law of their presence. It was presumably bad luck for them to see the faces of their wives' mothers.

Each chopine's toe post is of gold with gold bells, and the sole is of hand-wrought chased silver in intricate design.

Although these forerunners of the platform shoes are Eastern in inspiration, they were once worn in London and Paris. Shakespeare speaks of them in "Hamlet."

THE PARENTS' CORNER

The Girl's 15, Cute, Popular Well Dressed And In Trouble

Here's a story you've heard before. But the girl might be your daughter.

She is cute, well dressed and popular. She is 15, with a whole, wide, wonderful world before her. She comes from a nice home, with parents who love her and have given her everything. But she tried to kill herself yesterday; it is touch and go whether she'll survive. A baby is on the way. She couldn't bring herself to tell anyone about it. Death seemed better than disgrace, to her.

Why her trouble? She joined a secret teen-age girl's club at her school where she is a sophomore. She was "rushed" for membership last summer. Almost every high school has secret clubs. They operate like college sororities, only they bar adults. They meet at members' houses. They are capable of doing both good and bad things.

This girls' club had several joint meetings with a secret club for boys. The boys were older. The gatherings were unchaperoned. The teen-agers drank, played dirty records, told dirty stories, and read dirty books. Before this girl realized what was happening she was involved with a boy. Other members did the same.

Why do I tell you about her? For this reason. Don't friends, please don't let your kids join secret clubs. Don't let them get into any group which has unchaperoned meetings, or encourage drinking or goes in for necking. A sizeable number of secret clubs turns bad each year. It's best to keep your offspring entirely out of them.

Where can teen-agers find safe groups? In the sponsored clubs at school. In the youth groups at your church, in the YWCA, the Girls Clubs of America, the Job's Daughters, the Newman Clubs, and so on. There are many good organizations available.

Slim-Cut Gowns Lead Evening Parade

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fashion has tucked the bouffant evening dress into mothballs for the duration—of Mrs. John F. Kennedy's preference for the slim-cut formal gown.

When the First Lady abandoned the voluminous skirted formal, and set millions of other women off in the same austere direction, the fabrics people must have headed for the aspirin bottle — all that yard goods not needed any more!

But then, the designers made things up to the fabrics industry by increased stress on ensembles of coat, plus coordinated dress, or suit plus coordinated blouse, and it all evened out in piece goods consumption after all.

IN THE MEANTIME, the slim formal has saved acres of space in the nation's clothes closets and made women's navigation in and out of cars and through revolving doors a simpler maneuver.

The pared down, long evening dress continues its slithering way right into spring and summer, as seen in manufacturer-designer collections shown this week and early next for visiting women's and fashion editors.

In long formal gowns, the softened silhouette took over from the billowy, belled skirt of other seasons. Chiffon drifted through evening collection for late day and evening. Clinging crepe and textured silks ran next.

OLEG CASSINI, announced at the time of the inauguration as the official designer for Mrs. Kennedy, featured the long skinny skirt for what he called "big evenings." These slim bases came with tops decorated with beading and paillettes, and were worn under long coats in textured silks.

For "little evenings," the Cassini clothes included crinkly chiffon dresses, most of them street length, finely pleated through the skirts, and in rich tones of purple, green and pink.

DAYTIME CASSINIS included the loose, middy pullover; the sleeveless, collarless tunic over a slim skirt; and the skinny suit with hip-length jacket.

The ensemble act got top billing with Hannah Troy. The designer included the three-piece combination of skirt, jacket and blouse. Many of the blouses were in colorful silk surah prints and the jackets were lined with same. Typical Troy suit—one in bright green of sheer, nubby wool, with a pink and green printed silk blouse and jacket lining.

Coat and dress teamed up through several collections. At Gothe, for instance, the straight and easy-fitting coat of solid silk came with printed dress and printed lining.

HIGHLIGHTS OF two other collections shown yesterday:

Pattullo-Jo Copeland — The designer at this firm, Mrs. Copeland, showed suit jackets tailored like those of the military, with wide shoulders and slim hips—a reflection of the general revival of the man-tailored suit. But each suit came with a softening touch: an ascot scarf over one shoulder, crocheted edges, dressmaker buttons, or a wide silk cummerbund at the top of the skirt.

Davidow—This coat and suit house continued its profitable role as the number one exponent in the United States of the Chanel look from Paris. Typical of designer Chanel, and of Davidow—the cardigan jackets topping slim-cut skirts. But the look definitely was closer to the figure than in previous seasons.

Coats too at Davidow were narrow in shape, and came in either regulation dress length or seven-eighths length. Small pockets in place of cuffs on suit sleeves added a novelty touch.

New Blythedale President Enjoys Weaving, Gardening

Mrs. Connie Ford of Mill Valley is the newly elected noble grand of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305. She will take over her duties in a joint installation of officers with Independent Order of Odd Fellows Lodge No. 399 on Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley.

The new noble grand is a longtime resident of Mill Valley, having lived there in the same house for the past 40 years.

A member of Blythedale Lodge since 1956, she progressed through all of the offices to her present position of noble grand. She has not yet made specific plans for projects to be undertaken during her term of office.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

State Must Not Evict Elderly Ill From Nursing Home Beds

Marin County patients under the state's medical assistance for the aged program, face virtual eviction from their nursing home beds unless the state rescinds its maximum rate order affecting them. Other Bay Area counties are in similar critical circumstances.

As the Marin County welfare director explained to the Board of Supervisors, the state Department of Finance issued the new rate structure after a "random sampling" of private nursing home costs in the county. The three facilities they studied here were the lowest priced small homes. Similarly in other counties, she said.

The result was an order setting nursing care rates in Marin and the northern counties at $219 for basic care and $272 for extensive care. Previously payment had been up to $350.

At present there are 109 patients in nursing homes under the program. In the county's nine such homes, there are a total of 298 beds. Of these, only five beds would be eligible under the $219 maximum. And there is no assurance these five would not already be filled with patients not on the state assistance program.

This is much more than a statistical problem. We have seen a letter from one man whose mother was apparently under extensive care. He pleaded that the $350 payment be continued. But if it can't, he declared, he'd "do anything to try to dig up" the difference between the $272 and the $350 just so she can stay in the nursing home. But they won't even let him do that.

Any additional sum provided for the patient's care, whether it be provided by her family or by the county, would be deducted from the state grant, not added onto it.

At present there is no way to provide needed care for these people under the Finance Department edict.

The alternative appears to be to drop out of the state plan and put the patients under old aged security provisions, if they qualify—21 of them don't. Even so, this would cost Marin taxpayers approximately half a million dollars more in supplemental funds to get up to the $350 needed.

We can't understand the attitude of the state in this matter. Two suggestions have been made. One is that the state is so strapped for money to balance the budget it is making this grab for any cash saving. Second is that it is being done deliberately by those interested in medicare through social security so that California's Rattigan Act, which implimented the federal Kerr-Mills bill, will fail.

We can't believe either of these suggestions. We doubt that Governor Brown would allow his budget to be balanced at the expense of the elderly ill. Neither do we think he would allow them to be the pawns in a political maneuver, if he knew about it.

We think that the Finance Department has acted hastily with improper date of actual conditions. We doubt Governor Brown has known about it up until now. We hope he does now.

We call on the governor, on the head of the Department of Finance, and on our legislators to take action immediately so that these people, for whom we have accepted responsibility, will not be left in need.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Inauguration Is Great Fun If It's Filled With Stars, Laughs, Dancing

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Inauguration of a governor is always impressive if you allow yourself to think about the tremendous responsibilities one man is assuming with a few cold, repetitious, ugly phrases. Why can't the oath of office be a beautiful and impressive thing rather than a legalistic hash?

This year, however, the planning committee outdid itself in attempting first, an outdoor inauguration 19-gun salute, and inaugural address, then a gala inauguration show, and I do mean gala, winding up with a grand ball so crowded that you couldn't even get into the ballroom until half the crowd had left.

Early January isn't the best weather to be out under the trees in Sacramento, but the outdoors idea did allow hundreds more citizens to see and hear their governor take office, even if they did catch cold in the process. Even some of the legislators, to whom the governor was supposed to be speaking, didn't get seats. But they were mostly Republicans anyway. Marin was well represented with several score in attendance.

THE SHOW was something. Nearly 5,000 persons saw it in Sacramento's beautiful Memorial Auditorium (Marin could learn something from Sacramento about auditoriums). Governor Brown called it the greatest show ever assembled, and I'm inclined to go along with him. It was tremendous.

Dean Martin walked onstage holding his head and saying, "Governor, who was it that was shooting off that cannon about 1 o'clock today?" He complained that it was the first time anyone took 21 shots without inviting him to have one too.

Joey Bishop looked out into the huge beams of light centeredon him from the back of the huge auditorium and remarked, "I like your lighting here, but I sure hope no planes try to land."

Steve Allen was both funny and did a great piano bit.

Dorothy Dandridge, well how do you say it? She was beautiful, svelt, vivacious and has that gorgeous voice.

JIMMY DURANTE and company were never funnier. They even got laughing themselves, particularly when Jimmy pulled "Junior" over the piano so violently he went head over heels and crashed to the floor overturning the piano stool.

Jo Stafford was nostalgic, tremendous; her voice gets only better.

Gene Kelly was Gene Kelly in spades.

Frankie Sinatra warmed up as he went along, although in my book he'll never be a Crosby.

The governor was radiant and the first lady beautiful as usual.

Paul Weston's orchestra was outstanding and the Sacramento College choir melodious in singing the new song "California," which I doubt will ever replace "California Here I Come,"

THEY WERE all there and all generous in their offerings. Altogether it was a show you'd have to visit five or six different hotels on the Las Vegas strip to see.

One modish note from the grand ball: Full length formals are definitely coming back and here's one fellow who's real pleased about it. They were fascinating.

CAN'T HELP but compare this with Secretary of State Frank Jordan's swearing in quietly last Friday in his office and Max Rafferty's simple ceremony Monday morning in Jordan's office before the big event got under way.

Mrs. Rafferty didn't carry a bouquet of roses when her husband was sworn in as superintendent of public instruction before about 40 people. Instead, in the same posture for a bouquet, she carried a microphone so the TV audience could hear what was going on.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Voting Ridiculous Election Ridiculou

The Independent-Journal welcomes contributions to "What Our Readers Say." Letters must be signed and must not exceed 300 words in length. The editor reserves the right to delete malicious material.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently your political editor wrote two articles pertaining to the internal political affairs of the Marin County Young Republicans. I read the commentaries with considerable interest, especially some of the statements attributed to the so-called moderates.

As a member, and former officer, I have some knowledge of the situation in this club; therefore I am taking this opportunity to comment on the forthcoming YR elections, and also to speak out in defense of this past year's leaders.

The "moderates" who seek control of this political organization, have hinted that the conservative element has been less concerned than it should be with winning elections. I respectfully submit that of the 10 board members who are admitted conservatives, all of them have been actively involved in the various campaigns, either by doing general and diversified "chores" or being engaged in precinct activities, serving in all capacities from area chairmen down to precinct captains.

There is certainly no glory connected with these tiring and time-consuming tasks—only a lot of hard work. So I'm sure their only motive was a desire to help the Republicans win. And I believe their work must have been far more necessary than the horn-honking car parades, rallies and beer parties which have been synonymous with the YRs in the past.

Under this same leadership the club contributed some $2,000 to the United Republican Campaign Fund, as a result of organizing and sponsoring a $10-a-plate dinner featuring Ronald Reagan. And just lately there arose a question of how to dispose of the surplus funds that came from the recent membership drives. The conservatives wanted to donate it to Don Clausen's campaign fund, but the "moderates" thought a large portion should be delivered to the State YR Club in order to send more delegates to the Convention in February.

I believe these items prove that the conservatives are really very interested in winning elections, in spite of what Don Black says. It is also my belief, that at the very least, they should be able to run a man for club president if they so desire.

But the YR election has already been decided—not by the voting members, but by the chairman of the County Central Committee and by our esteemed state assemblyman at a meeting on Dec. 28. According to some who were there, all factions were represented, and after much deliberation, our junior legislator announced that Mr. Black was the only candidate acceptable to him.

It didn't matter, evidently, that Mr. Black might not be the best qualified man, or that he might not be the choice of the membership since he was defeated for even a board position last year and since he was the only incumbent defeated for re-election to the central committee. It only mattered that Mr. Bagley wanted Mr. Black in that office—for some reason.

The other positions were decided by compromise, so on Jan. 15 the YRs either vote for this hand-picked slate or we don't vote at all.

I've heard of nominating committees, but this is ridiculous! Any and all qualified people should be allowed and encouraged to run for the office of their choice; they should wage their campaigns, face the voting members, and let the chips fall where they may.

The conservatives are willing to do this, but not so with some of the "moderates." They know what they want, and will take it any way they can get it. Then they say that in the interest of party solidarity (more like peaceful coexistence) the conservatives must keep quiet. Is this what Casper Weinberger meant when he called for party reorganization from the ground up?

As a voter, I would like to think that all election campaigns, no matter what level, are honest, out-in-the-open affairs; but I have come to learn that this isn't always true. Some upper echelon Republicans pulled some shenanigans in 1958, and in my mind, again in 1960. Both times it was disastrous. Why can't we just play the game fairly? Then if we go down to defeat, at least we do so with honor!

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Copy of a prayer discovered by a correspondent in a room at a Long Island inn: "Keep me from getting too talkative, and thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion. Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older. Release me from craving to straighten out everybody's affairs. Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible that I may be mistaken. Make me thoughtful, but not moody; helpful but not bossy. Thou knowest, Lord, that what I want is a few friends at the end."

The last time T. S. Eliot visited America he saw a football game played by two crack college teams from the Big Ten. Later Eliot was heard to comment, "This game has now become so intricate, and the plays so complicated, that I would imagine the players find their studies a relaxation."

Two confused Polish Communists were trying to make some kind of sense out of the current chaotic international situation. "Thank the Lord," concluded one, "that between Poland and China there's still one nice buffer state—Russia!"

Corte Madera Leads Larkspur In Let's-Adjourn-Early Sweepstakes

Notes of a Night-Blooming Reporter: The Corte Madera Town Council leads the Larkspur City Council in the 1963 sweepstakes for early adjournment.

It wrapped up its meeting Monday at 9:31 p.m. (two hours). Larkspur dragged on last week until about 12:30 a.m. (four and one-half hours).

Most productive part of the Larkspur session for this reporter was the one-half hour devoted to talks by Boardwalk 1 residents belonging to the Arkites Assn. asking that the council oppose any county park plan that would condemn any of their homes. The council managed without much bother to accede to the residents' wishes 4-0, Councilman Neil R. Brixon absent.

IT WHAT OBSERVERS rated a triumph of nit-picking, the Larkspur council later in the same session spent 63 minutes reviewing a dozen suggestions by Councilman Lesly A. Daveler.

Daveler's suggestions were in connection with the 45-page administration manual drafted by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper after Councilman Robert J. Smith began a number of weeks ago to question Piper's authority.

Some old-time residents have the impression Smith does not favor the manager form of city government, though his and Daveler's opinions on this have not been spelled out—or to restate the thought: Motivations of Daveler and Smith in prolonging council discussions, often on submicroscopic points, are not clear.

SMITH IN OPEN meeting in October said: "When I start to talk I don't know what I'm going to say."

He said this after starting a motion on roads and then unleashing a motion for a concept of the city as a place of single-family homes. The overlapped motions were intoned in one breath, presumably with the same technique learned by singer Frank Sinatra from the late trombonist-leader Tommy Dorsey.

Former planning commission chairman Vaughn Marker and Councilman Brixon unscrambled the parliamentary diphthong 20 minutes later.

The most fascinating Daveler suggestion last week was this proposed addition to Piper's manual (punctuation and capitalization Daveler's):

"Conversations between Councilmen and City employees, other than Clerk and Treasurer are, except in emergencies, to be restricted to the weather and health of each family."

Councilman Daniel Allen, who is reported to have said he will not serve after this term, growled: "I don't think you can legislate judgment. It seems silly."

Piper interjected: "I think it is good for councilmen to discuss jobs with employees. It is one way the council can be informed."

THE COUNCIL took no action on this or the other Daveler suggestions. But it chewed up time discussing them.

Later in the same session the council, 3-1, reversed an action it had taken at its preceding meeting by rescinding authority it had granted to Piper to seek county matching funds to develop Doherty Drive extension.

Allen dissented, complaining this reversal followed years of negotiations by Piper with developer Niels Schultz Jr. and the Tamalpais Union High School District.

BY CONTRAST, this last Monday night the Corte Madera council sailed through a page and one-third agenda in two hours.

In that time it agreed to hire an architect to design a public safety building and took numerous other positive actions—and still devoted 55 minutes to new, unsuccessful arguments to put the new postoffice in the Corte Madera Center.

Kennedy Thinks He'll Have Tough Time Being Re-Elected In 1964

WASHINGTON — As the Kennedy administration begins the second half of its term in the wake of a significant congressional election victory, there are three political factors which ought to be brought into focus:

1—President Kennedy himself, it can be said with knowledge, does not think his re-election will be easy or can be taken for granted.

2—The two fresh, brisk Republican governors of Michigan and Pennsylvania, George Romney and William Scranton, plus the established Rockefeller of New York, will heighten interest in the contest for the Republican presidential nomination and improve the party's prospects.

3—If the Republicans are to have any fair chance of repairing their lop-sided minority in the Senate in 1964, they need to choose as Senate campaign chairman a dynamic successor to Barry Goldwater, who has completed his two-year term in this position.

IT IS EASY to make the harmless chairmanship appointment. It takes a willingness to ruffle a few feelings to do better than that. Some consideration is being given to asking either Sen. Jacob Javits of New York or Sen. James B. Pearson or Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas to take the job. Any such appointment would be a small hurricane of fresh air blowing in the right direction.

The senatorial election in '64 will be crucial for the Republicans. It was six years ago that the Democrats got their big increment of Senators. Two years hence the "class of '58" will be up for re-election, and if the Republicans do not put something extra into the coming campaign, they face a long, lean road ahead in the Senate.

UNLESS SOME calamity befalls the administration in the next two years, like a serious reversal in the cold war or a recession, it seems clear that the odds will favor the President's re-election. It is interesting to note, therefore, that his own estimate of his prospects are extremely caution.

He makes the point to associates that every Democratic President since the Civil War, except F.D.R., running for re-election, has had most narrow victories and he sees no reason to think it will be different two years hence.

Quite apart from the fact that a good candidate always runs scared, there are several objective factors to support Kennedy's limited apprehension.

But these mostly are minor weaknesses compared to Kennedy's political assets:

His high popularity rating, the muting of the religious issue by his own election, the power of an incumbent President, the initiatives open to him and his own talent and resourcefulness.

Glad to oblige. In fact, this may be the right time to tell of the finesse that saved my life.

MIXED UP

Don't ask where and when it all occurred. It's all mixed up in my mind with a tournament and a late meal that consisted largely of Welsh rabbit.

But there I was, playing as the partner of a cannibal chief.

I had failed to make my previous contract, and the chief was scolding me vigorously when this hand happened. "Just go down this time," he warned me, "and into the stewpot you go."

DESPERATE PLAY

I won the first trick in dummy with the ace of diamonds and led the deuce of hearts. East played the ten, and I took a desperate finesse with the jack of hearts.

West discarded a diamond, so I spread my hand and announced I was going to draw two more top trumps and run my ten tricks.

East, a vampire by the name of Dracula, was very annoyed at my finesse. "Just for peeking at my hand," he announced, "I'm going to take all your blood."

CANNIBAL

The cannibal chief came to my defense, and in the confusion I woke up. But I wrote the cards down with a shaking hand as a service to all my readers.

The immediate heart finesse was sure to keep me out of the stewpot. If the finesse worked, well and good. If it lost, the trumps would split 2-1, and I would eventually be able to lead the four of hearts to dummy's five and discard a losing club on a good spade.

Ever since that night I've had a soft spot in my heart for

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Food Habits Often Used As Symbols Of Love, Affection By Human Beings

VAN DELLEN

Primitive warriors drank blood and gnawed the meat of wild animals in the mistaken belief it made them more powerful and aggressive. Meat still is symbolic of strength and energy. Athletes consume steaks and chops as though the strength of the butchered animal was transferred in every mouthful.

The same is true of many older men who believe they will be weak without red meat. Vegetables are considered more feminine, even though they may contain substitute proteins of comparable value.

ACCORDING to Marion H. Zetterstrom, New York dietitian, certain meanings have come to be associated with foods. Fruits symbolize love and affection. A basket of fruit is a common gift and the apple for the teacher is part of our culture. It is not clear to me just where the apple a day that keeps the doctor away fits in. Fruits also are associated with reproduction (fruition) and they are symbols of beauty, esteem, and luxury.

Dr. W. Kaufman believes certain foods have emotional significance. When a person is thwarted or frustrated, for example, he is likely to reach for reward or party foods such as chocolates, ice cream, nuts, cake, or hot dogs. Fetish foods are those many of us think we cannot do without; the athlete and his red meat is an example. Bread, the staff of life, is another and many food faddists have a long list of nutriments that fall into this category.

THE MATURITY foods (beer, coffee, and tea) are items used by adults but denied to children. Milk and milk products are regarded as security foods because they help bind the early parent-child relationship. Most of us have consumed large amounts of a particular food on certain occasions when we feel a special need for emotional comfort.

We also have a private list of foods that remind us of happy circumstances and another list that has unpleasant associations. These include foods to which we develop aversions through religious or cultural upbringing or because they once caused a digestive upset.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

INSECURE COUPLE

Mrs. D. writes: My husband and I both lack confidence. This hinders us in our social life and his work. Should we see a psychiatrist?

REPLY

Psychiatric care may uncover the cause of your insecurity and teach you to live within your limitations. But I doubt if it would make you more capable or add to your abilities.

NOSEBLEED ON RISING

S. M. writes: Lately, I am suffering from nosebleed on getting up in the morning. I'm 61. Can you tell me the cause?

REPLY

No, but your physician can. He will examine your nose to see whether a scratch, an ulcer, or a tumor is present, take the blood pressure recording, check your heart, and order blood tests to determine whether a bleeding tendency exists.

JAUNDICE IN NEWBORNS

W. D. writes: Why do some infants have jaundice at birth?

REPLY

Because of an incompatibility of blood between mother and child. There is no need for concern when the skin turns slightly yellow a few days after birth. This occurs so often in new babies it might be considered normal.

OUTGROWING BRONCHITIS

Mrs. M. writes: Is chronic bronchitis in childhood ever outgrown?

REPLY

Probably not, although the question cannot be answered intelligently unless the cause of bronchitis is known.

Factors In U. S. Tax Trim

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Tax has become almost a swear word to many people. Yet the national government currently is embroiled in a great debate over whether federal tax rates should be cut. The following dispatch describes the factors which will influence the final outcome.)

By VINCENT BURKE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although President John F. Kennedy seems to be riding a wave of personal popularity, it is by no means certain that he can succeed in pushing a tax cut through Congress in 1963.

If he fails, it will be the first time since the federal income tax was levied that the lawmakers have failed to respond to a presidential plea for general tax relief.

Even so, the odds now are generally rated not much better than 50-50 that a tax cut will be enacted during the first session of the new 88th Congress. In fact, many tax experts contend that chances are less than even.

But few bets are being placed. The crystal balls are too cloudy.

The fog won't start clearing away until (1) the president spells out the exact terms of his tax-cut-and-reform package and (2) the business community, union leaders and the general public has time to ponder the issue—and react.

"It's far too early now to guess what's going to happen," says one White House aide.

Four big handicaps face the president, who promised last August that he would seek enactment in 1963 for a top-to-bottom reduction in tax rates for individuals and corporations, effective retroactively to Jan. 1, 1963.

First is an apparent disinterest in tax cuts on the part of many voters. It remains to be seen whether Kennedy can "sell" them on his idea that the tax load should be reduced to promote long-range prosperity and reduce unemployment, despite the big budget deficit. Kennedy insists this course of action will lead ultimately to a balanced budget and full employment.

In seeking to explain why a tax cut seems to have less pocketbook appeal than it once did, some administration officials point to the tax-withholding system through which employees pay their taxes weekly through payroll deductions. An annual tax cut of $75 now means a boost of less than $1.50 a week in take-home pay.

One Kennedy aide also complains that the impression seems to be widespread among the nation's voters that the economy is in "pretty good shape," even though scattered pockets of economic distress add up to a national unemployment rate of more than 5.5 per cent.

A second big obstacle is that a group of Democratic conservatives in Congress hold key positions. They oppose a tax cut at a time when the government is running a big deficit. The federal treasury in the fiscal year ending last June 30 went into the red by almost seven billion dollars. Its latest deficit estimate for the current fiscal year is 7.8 billion dollars.

None of these conservatives is likely to change his stance, unless strong public pressures develop in support of tax cuts.

A third imponderable is whether those labor and business leaders who have called for tax cuts will retain their enthusiasm once they see details of the president's package. No one could cut a tax-reduction pie in a manner satisfactory to both labor and business. But no tax-cutting bill is likely to pass in 1963, if either business or labor opposes it.

As if these handicaps weren't enough, the president apparently is going to complicate the problem still further. He has all but decided on a single-package approach that will couple his tax-cutting recommendations to proposals for repealing or restricting some of the tax exemptions and deductions now enjoyed by many taxpayers.

Those who favor this kind of tax reform have always conceded that the only real chance for accomplishing it is to couple the tax-tightening proposals with a tax rate reduction. But they also have conceded that it would take two years to push any major reform bill through Congress.

For that reason Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges and Walter Heller, chairman of the president's council of economic advisers, favored a two-package approach—enactment of a simple tax cut in 1963 with a tax-cut-and-reform bill put off until 1964.

But the president has tentatively decided to go along with the single-package approach advocated by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills, whose support is regarded as virtually essential to any successful tax-revision drive, argued in recent White House conferences with Kennedy that any reduction in tax rates should be accomplished by revenue-boosting reforms. His idea is to recapture most, if not all of the revenue lost through rate cuts.

However, any significant revenue-producing reform proposals would encounter formidable opposition from those whose tax liabilities would be adversely affected. Few, if any, congressional tax writers believe that any major reform of that nature could be pushed through Congress in one year's time.

Thus, chances for enactment of a rate-cutting bill in 1963 hinge largely on two possible developments:

1. If the economy begins to slide, Congress undoubtedly will reduce taxes. Mills would be among the first to endorse such action to head off a recession.

2. If Kennedy, through careful tax-packaging and public relations can whip up enough enthusiasm for the tax-cutting part of his program, Mills' Ways and Means Committee may find the pressure for action irresistible.

In that event, the committee probably would strip from the president's package the most controversial of the revenue-boosting "reform" provisions and push some version of the remainder through the House. Once a tax-cutting bill clears the Ways and Means Committee, there would be little chance of stopping it, despite the opposition of Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee.

Given a choice between no tax cutting action before 1964 and a 1963 tax cutting bill with only token reform, Kennedy would certainly choose the latter.

G.E. Safeguards Against Radiation

By WILLIAM HARRISON

RICHLAND, Wash. (UPI)—You are radioactive. Everybody is. We are all hopped up with radionuclides. The amounts are usually small and harmless but measurable.

The radioactive materials occur in nature. Atomic installations such as the Hanford Atomic Products Operation run here by General Electric may release controlled amounts. Then there is fallout from nuclear weapons testing.

G.E. goes to great lengths to safeguard its 8,000 Hanford employees who work daily with dangerously radioactive substances. The firm measures their radioactivity with a Whole Body Counter conveniently located in downtown Richland. The check is voluntary.

The painless procedure takes about 20 minutes. Some newsmen went through it recently after visiting Hanford, which G.E. operates for the Atomic Energy Commission, producing plutonium for nuclear bombs.

You walk in and are greeted by a pretty, smiling hostess who hands you a pair of paper slippers and some freshly laundered coveralls.

You go into a side room, shuck your clothes, watch and jewelry, take a shower, don the coveralls and slippers.

A technician ushers you to a 10-foot cubicle where you switch to a fresh pair of paper slippers before stepping in. That keeps you from tracking radioactive particles into the cell.

You sit in a contour chair in the center of the room. The operator lowers a 15-inch sodium iodide crystal over your lap.

He explains that the cubicle has walls, floor and ceiling of 10-inch steel armor plate backed by a quarter-inch lead sheath to cut down the background radioactivity always present in the environment. It would interfere with your measurements.

The fellow doesn't mention an inconspicuous television camera that has a glassy eye trained on you.

Out he goes, pressing a red plastic button, and a seven and one-half top door slides shut.

For 10 minutes the crystal a scintillation detector, picks up the gamma and X-rays you are emitting. It re-emits them as light particles which photo-multiplier tubes tunnel into a "400-channel pulse height analyzer."

Your radioactive emissions trace a crackling line of dots on a cathode display tube outside—you find out later—while the intimate record grinds out in figures on a paper tape.

If you start shifting around, you may be startled by loudspeaker instructions to settle down. The technician is watching on the monitor TV and doesn't want you to perhaps smudge his $7,200 crystal.

The door opens, you emerge, dress and get a photograph of your radiation profile, a line of white dots across a black, latticed background.

"The highest peak shows your 'garbage radiation' or low energy emissions," the technician explains. "Halfway down that is your iodine 131. The next one across is a peak of cesium 137. And farther across and conspicuous is your potassium 40 peak. Potassium is contained in all lean tissue." They are radionuclides, materials which emit certain rays as they decay.

Your radionuclides fall far short of the permissible body burden. You'll live.

If you're lucky, you get a chance to meet "good ole Harry" before you leave. Harry, a human skeleton in a plastic shell, rests in a pine coffin when he isn't working.

He has lifelike internal organs but they are hollow. Before he goes to work in the counting room contour chair, the organs are filled with various radioactive solutions. Harry serves as an experimental standard in the radiation protection operation.

A few fusion products have been detected in Hanford employees since Whole Body Counter was put into operation in 1959, say officials, but the materials have been transient and only a slight percentage of the permissible body burden.

Visitors are invited to undergo the radiation measurement to suppy data for comparison purposes.

Business Unworried As Congress Convenes

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Even the convening of Congress leaves the general feeling of confidence and complacency unshaken.

There are plenty of things Congress could do for or against business, the taxpayer and the consumer. But the usual air of worry with which industry, the stock market and taxpayers view the convening of a new set of legislators is fairly muted this year.

Perhaps Americans are just too used by now to crises that didn't live up to advance billing—to believe that anything much will happen. Little things, yes. But big things that make much of a change in jobs, incomes, sales and profits, no.

Or they believe that whatever does happen is likely to make things moderately better, if it has any effect at all.

Complacency is always branded as a risky, if not dangerous thing. And Americans doubtlessly count up their present blessings and prospects and call it confidence, rather than complacency.

Also, over the years they've watched the government try many schemes to ease their burdens or advance their prosperity. And here too, the advance billing often hasn't been borne out by the results.

Much closer to most Americans than the halls of Congress are the factories or offices where they work. And right now their worries appear to be concentrated there.

Mostly it's about job security. In both factory and office more output doesn't necessarily mean more jobs. Often it means more machines instead.

And a survey of consumer confidence in November and December by the Universtiy of Michigan's Survey Research Center finds that fears of spreading unemployment are still widespread.

Otherwise, general confidence had climbed slightly since a tally last September. Slowly rising incomes bolstered it. Of the families surveyed 39 per cent said they were making more money than a year earlier.

Other surveys have shown that some families say they would spend any savings through a tax cut quickly. Others say they would use it to pay pressing debts.

Many say they would like to turn it into various forms of personal savings—just in case things at the factory or the office didn't go as favorably as they now hope and expect.

So what the Congress does will be watched--and every personal gain, however small, will be appreciated—but neither hopes nor fears are as high just now as in many previous session openings.

Proposed Grand Avenue Span Still In Paper Stage At State Office

A proposed bridge to extend Grand Avenue across San Rafael canal is still in the paper stage in the California Division of Highways offices.

The bridge, which is an important part of state plans to ease the freeway interchange bottleneck in San Rafael, would close off the upper end of the canal for about a block. Property owners upstream from Grand Avenue don't like it and have filed protests with the Army Corps of Engineers, which controls navigable waterways.

Division of Highways officials are reluctant to discuss the situation. Preston Smith, assistant district engineer, said today the state is still "investigating and planning."

Smith said alternatives to building a low-level bridge across the canal had been explored. The low-level bridge, he said, is the only way to do what the state and city want to do in relieving the freeway congestion at Irwin Street and Francisco Boulevard.

The city's position, according to City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, is simple:

"We want the road through."

There is a lot more canal downstream from Grand Avenue, Andersen said.

The Army Engineers' position is also simple:

"We're waiting for the state to submit its plans," a spokesman said.

This may take some time, according to Smith, because there is no money for the project yet, and the state will have to negotiate with the objecting property owners.

Richardson Bay Fill On Agenda For Supervisors

They briefly discussed a report from public works director Donald R. Frost that the Marin County Flood Control Advisory Commission wants filling prohibited at places where it would interfere with maintenance of a minimum waterway 1,100 feet wide and suggests county purchase of private lands within such area.

Frost said the committee had become concerned over changes in the Richardson Bay Master Plan and hoped that land will be condemned or traded. He pointed out that filling is still prohibited under emergency ordinance.

"Purchase represents a good deal of money if it can't be worked out by trade," commented Supervisor Peter Behr who brought about referral to county counsel to ascertain if public hearings are in order.

West Marin Plan Speed Is Urged

Members of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce, meeting Tuesday night at Bolinas, voted to ask the Marin County Planning Commission to speed up preparation of a West Marin master plan.

James A. Marshall of Tomales, retained for the third year as chamber president, said the chamber wants the planners to set a definite date for completion of the plan and issue periodic progress reports.

The chamber also agreed to ask Assemblyman William T. Bagley to speak on state legislation at the chamber's next meeting, Feb. 12.

Novato Building At $4 Million

Building in Novato during the first six months of the current fiscal year reached almost four million dollars, according to a report given to the city council by the building inspection department.

Fred Westfall, building inspector, reported the city had issued $3,979,452 in building permits up to Jan. 1 This brought $14,806 into the city treasurer in fees.

This is the largest six months in building permits in the two-year history of the city, according to the building inspector.

Racial Equality Unit May Start In Marin

A chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality may be started at Marin City, Hardy Westmore, chairman of the Marin City Citizens Committee fact-finding group, announced today.

The matter is to be explored at a citizens committee meeting at 8 p.m. on Jan. 23 at the Community Lounge, under Chairman Frank Phillips.

New Furniture Service Opens

Bix Service Co., a furniture stripping service, has opened at 2222 Bridgeway in Sausalito.

Its main product, according to agent Duane Hines, is to strip or remove finish from furntiure so that people may do their own refinishing at home. Secondly, the firm provides wipe on stains and finishes for furniture. Hines is agent for Bix It, a wipe on stain, the first outlet in Marin, according to him.

Hines plans to use his background in sailing and yacht maintenance in the Bay Area as background to apply to a boat stripping service. He is married and lives with his wife and son in Sausalito. Hines was recently discharged from a three-year tour with the Air Force's Strategic Air Command.

Orient Slides Will Be Shown

Naturalist Ruth Shehi will show a group of slides in a show entitled "Trip to the Orient" for the Marin Nature Group at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room 1, Harlan Hall, College of Marin.

The slides were selected from more than 1,300 pictures taken by Mrs. Shehi in a tour of Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, the Philippines, India, Kashmir, Nepal, Java, Ceylon, Bali, Singapore and Rangoon.

The group will meet at 10 a.m. Sunday at Circle Drive on the college campus to take a hike on Tamalpais Cataract Gulch. Mrs. Margaret Best will lead the hike.

Catholic Fund Drive Should End In March

The drive for funds to build a new Roman Catholic cathedral in San Francisco and finance other projects in the San Francisco Archdiocese should be over by the middle of March.

This was what 400 Marin County campaign workers representing all Roman Catholic parishes in the county, learned Tuesday night in a campaign meeting at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. Projects included in the 17-million-dollar drive is the addition of classrooms at Marin Catholic High School in Kentfield to increase capacity from 700 to 1,200.

Cutting Hill Grass

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Department of Highways is using four self-propelled machines with mountain goat characteristics to cut grass and weeds along steep slopes of interstate and turnpike routes in Eastern Kentucky. The mowers will cut going up-hill at angles approaching 90 degrees and down-hill at 80 degree angles.

Homestead Membership Meeting Set

Homestead Valley Improvement Club will hold a membership meeting at 8:15 p.m. today at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley, to elect officers for the year.

Entertainment will be provided, according to Jacques Nadler, club president.

Nadler said the club is not sponsoring the talk by William F. Grader at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at Brown's Hall. Rather, he said, it is sponsored by himself, Mrs. Jo Schlesinger, Martin Friedman and several other Homestead Valley residents. The Independent-Journal reported Monday that the meeting was to be under club auspices.

Nadler said that, as president of the club, he invited both Grader and Donald H. Clausen, Republican candidate for Congress, to speak. Clausen's headquarters reported he would be unable to appear.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Ida R. Kennedy of Hot Springs says living quarters for Arkansas pioneers were thrown up by helpful neighbors at "house raisings" but the cabins did not have windows or doors. The neighbors left that job for the householder.

COLORFUL PROPOSAL

Lawmakers Yawn At Highway Safety Plan

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Everyone yawned the last time Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland) tried to peddle push-button highway safety.

But he said today he's going to try again to convince the legislature to approve the unusual speed control program conceived by one of his constituents, Nicholas Demetry, a Greek-born Oakland butcher.

The plan, ignored by lawmakers when it was introduced in the 1961 legislature, works like this:

Center lines of highways would be marked red for 15-mile-an-hour zones, green for 25-mile zones, blue for 40-to-55-mile areas and white for the maximum 65-mile-an-hour zone.

Each new auto would be required to have red, green, blue and white buttons on the dashboard. Cars would be equipped with governors.

When a motorist comes to a 15-mile-an-hour zone, for example, he would merely have to press a button and he could go no faster.

"All the experts say the idea has one flaw—the driver," said Petris. "He doesn't want to be confined with governors."

"But the drivers don't want safety belts either, even though statistics show they cut down injuries tremendously.

"What the hell—we cram a lot of things down a driver's throat, including drivers' licenses."

Petris admitted Demetry's plan might be impractical but said he feels there is enough merit in it to warrant a legislative hearing.

The 1961 legislature didn't agree. The plan died in committee.

The 50-year-old Demetry has campaigned tirelessly for the plan since he first made it public in 1957. He's toured the country, visiting politicians and newspaper offices and written letters to national leaders.

"Everything under the sun in the state, as well as the nation, has been tried and virtually all our efforts and huge expenditures have failed miserably to deal effectively with the problem," he said.
